SUFFRAGIST WON ACCESS TO KING

Despite All Precautions of London Police

WERE HOLDING COURT

King and Queen Held Court Last Night at Buckingham Palace—Woman Fell on Knees Before King and Plead.

London, June 4.—The King and Queen held court at Buckingham palace tonight, and despite all precautions a militant suffragist gained access to their presence and interrupted the presentations.

As she was passing the King the suffragist dropped on her knees and cried: "Your Majesty, for God's sake do not use force."

The woman was attired in court dress, and her action caused consternation. She continued to admonish the King, but the conductor of the band in the gallery signalled to the band to play louder, and the woman's voice was drowned.

The woman immediately was removed from the room and handed over to the police. Her name was not learned, and close inquiries are being made as to how she obtained a card of admission.

The scene was brief and the assemblage generally had little knowledge of what was transpiring.

Whether the woman was an invited guest who sympathized with the suffragist movement or an intruder who gained admission by forged card is not known. The police had knowledge of a conspiracy to approach the royal presence and every guest and every carriage arriving at Buckingham Palace tonight had been subjected to close inspection by detectives—a unique precaution and one that caused considerable delay and not a little indignation and irritation in court circles.

Tonight's incident is calculated to produce a feeling of still greater exasperation in the public mind and renewed demands for strong measures to suppress the suffragist agitation.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD ENTERTAIN ROYALTY

King and Queen of Spain Guests of the American Ambassador.

Madrid, June 4.—Joseph E. Willard, American ambassador, and Mrs. Willard, had King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain as their guests at luncheon at the American embassy today. Kermit Roosevelt and the British and German ambassadors also were guests.

A brilliant reception followed, which was attended by the members of the diplomatic corps, and many persons prominent in the society of the Spanish capital. A Russian ballet was given for the entertainment of the guests.

Because Ambassador Willard desires to observe all the requirements of the Spanish laws in respect to foreign marriages, the magistrate of Buena Vista district will perform the civil marriage ceremony for Miss Belle Willard and Kermit Roosevelt on June 10. The American embassy is situated in the Buena Vista district, the most aristocratic section of the city.

FAVORABLY REPORT LEVER COTTON BILL

House Agricultural Committee Takes Action

Measure Will Be Substituted For Bill Already Passed By the Senate—Very Little Difference in Bills.

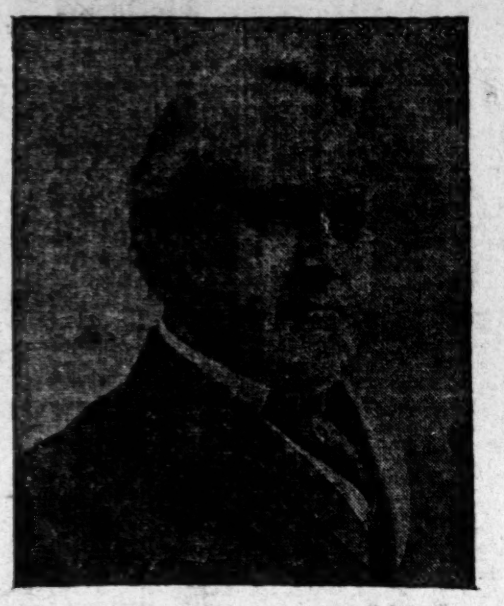
Washington, June 4.—The Lever cotton futures bill was favorably reported to the House today as a substitute for the bill already passed by the Senate.

Representative Lever, of South Carolina, author of the bill and chairman of the Agricultural committee, included in his favorable report, a comprehensive analysis of cotton exchange transactions. The bill, says the report "recognizes the economic value of those cotton exchanges that uhse a contract report of the true value of spinnable cotton, and levels its prohibition against those exchanges only the value of which contracts is susceptible to violent fluctuations and manipulation.

Upon such contracts the value of which under the rules of the exchanges does not reflect truly the value of spot cotton as it exists from day in the hands of the farmers upon local markets," added the report a tax of $5 a bale is levied. Such a tax, in the judgment of the trade, absolutely prohibitive. Upon such contracts as do represent the value of spot cotton, no tax whatever is laid, and this is true likewise of all spot cotton transactions, including the "F. O. B." cotton 'to arrive' and 'for prompt delivery.'

'The whole purpose of the boll is to compel, by law, the use of such a contract by the future markets, the quotations of the value of which will reflect accurately and truely the value of spot cotton of spinnable and usable quality.

NOMINATED FOR ANOTHER TERM IN SENATE WITHOUT OPPOSITION



Hon. Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, junior member from North Carolina in the United States Senate, yesterday received the unanimous vote of the State convention in Raleigh as the Democratic candidate to be elected by the vote of the people of North Carolina in the general election next November. One while it was expected that ex-Governor R. B. Glenn and Mr. E. J. Justice would enter the race in opposition to Senator Overman, but neither became a candidate, both receiving splendid appointments at the hands of President Wilson.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM IS FOR LEGALIZED PRIMARY

For Nomination of All National, State and Judicial Officers Only; Many "Progressive" Planks Adopted—Initiative and Referendum Not Mentioned—Wilson's Policy as to Free Tolls Indorsed—Overman and Travis Re-Nominated—Craig Speaks

Raleigh, N. C., June 4.—The Democratic State convention, having this afternoon unanimously renominated for the United States Senate Lee S. Overman, and for a member of the North Carolina Corporation Commission Edward L. Travis, adjourned tonight shortly before 11 o'clock, after the adoption of a platform. Hugh Chatham, of Elkin, was the permanent chairman.

As the closing act of the afternoon session, the convention by a unanimous vote endorsed the position taken by President Wilson for the repeal of the Canal Tolls Exemption clause; commended the House of Representatives for its vote for repeal, and called upon the Democratic majority in the Senate to uphold the President's position and sustain the fundamental principle of Democracy in opposition to trusts and bounties.

At night the convention heard with attention a strong address by Secretary of Commerce Redfield on the value of the Democratic tariff. This was followed by a warm discussion as to a legalized Statewide primary plank in the platform, the convention endorsing the principle as applied to National, State and Judicial primaries, and pledged the party to enact such laws as would make the principle applicable to all parties.

The platform endorses the administration of Woodrow Wilson and the State Democratic administration; commends the progress made to secure an end of freight rate discrimination; pledges Democracy's efforts to secure a six months' school term in every district; demands the strict upholding of the prohibition law; endorses a revision of the penal system to the most modern methods; demands continued investigation as to discrimination in insurance rates; endorses a system of rural credits to aid the farmer; calls for the conservation of our natural resources, for the building of good roads, and for using every possible safeguard to preserve the health of the people.

Attendance Very Slim.

With probably the slimmest attendance that has characterized any Democratic State convention in recent years, the 1914 convention was called to order at noon today by State Chairman Thomas D. Warren, of Newbern. The representation of the various sections of the State was, of course, complete, and the rank and file of those attending were a set of sturdy, able and determined men, but not in the least given to any special outbursts or manifestations of enthusiasm.

Chairman Warren called on Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, of the First Baptist church, to offer the invocation, which he did in most appropriate vein. The members were next welcomed to Raleigh by Mayor James I. Johnson, who welcomed to Raleigh as the political, geographical and educational center of the State, assuring all that they were welcome to all that there is in the city that they might want.

Judge R. W. Winston spoke for the Raleigh chamber of commerce and expressed the hope that the convention might evolve a progressive platform that cannot be improved upon even by Theodore Roosevelt. He caused a laugh by drinking a toast to the convention using "Some of Joe Daniels' drink"—pure water.

Chairman Warren Speaks.

The formality of the call of the roll of counties by Secretary W. E. Brook was performed and then Chairman Warren delivered his address, which was brief and to the point. He congratulated the people and the party on the establishment of constitutional government for the State and Nation through Democratic administrations, referred to the evils of Republicanism of which the country has now been rid, and congratulated the party on the fulfillment of Democratic pledges in State and in National affairs, "keeping faith with the people," as he expressed it. "The golden days of the Republic have returned and the people are contented and prosperous," declared the chairman.

He predicted that the war cloud will soon pass, or if there is war with Mexico it will not be for subjugation but in the interest of humanity and for civil liberty and constitutional government. He declared that in State affairs the administrations of Aycock, Glenn, Kitchin and Craig have been progressive, conservative clean and without scandal, and in no period have more beneficial laws been enacted or greater progress accomplished.

In conclusion Chairman Warren declared that he was a Democrat, not a progressive, conservative or reactionary Democrat, but a Democrat in the full and real sense of the word. "Democrat", he declared to be a noun substantive of so fine and large import that it admits of no addition or diminution or any qualifying word or phrase. He said a Democrat is an individualist who believes in the right of every man to be and to make of himself all that his Creator has put into him. He believes and practices the doctrine of equal rights and the duty of obligation of seeing to it that no man shall be denied the chances in life which his Maker intended that he should have. He is filled with the spirit of equality, which has made this country the refuge of the oppressed of all the world and the hope of this age and of all ages to come. Chairman Warren's speech was roundly applauded in every part of the convention hall.

At the conclusion of his address, Chairman Warren introduced N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, as temporary chairman. He was most cordially received and spoke for more than an hour, his address constituting a typewritten manuscript of 30-odd pages.

The "Keynote" Speech.

Mr. Rouse, as temporary chairman, reviewed the downfall of the Republican party as the dominant national force, an eventuality that he declared was already in progress when the Democratic State convention of 1912 was held, Taft being even then face to face with a revolt among his party leaders. He paid high tribute to Governor Aycock's vision of the power and influence that North Carolina was destined to have in the National affairs now being realized in the representation the State has in the National administration, with Senator Simmons, Josephus Daniels, Senator

CARRANZA DELAYS MEDIATION WORK

Rebel Chief Expected to Make Next Move

WASHINGTON WAITING

Mediators at Niagara Falls Spend Another Day in Idleness, Awaiting Reply—Favorably Impressed With Silence.

Washington, June 4.—The Washington government today waited on Carranza in so far as progress in Mexican mediation was concerned. It was clearly apparent that the Constitutionalist leader was expected to make the next move in the diplomatic negotiations toward settlement of Mexican affairs.

At Constitutionalist headquarters here no immediate action was expected. Rafael Zubaran, Gen. Carranza's chief representative in Washington, said:

"I transmitted the note to Gen. Carranza last night. It probably will be two or three days before a response is dispatched. Gen. Carranza is about to leave for Saltillo, which also will operate to delay his decision."

Asked directly about the chances for Constitutionalist representation at Niagara Falls, Mr. Zubaran said:

"Affairs are getting better, or to quote Mr. Bryan's phrase, 'the situation is encouraging.'"

Washington officials today would not discuss the situation for publication. John Lind conferred with the members of the agency here, urging them to use their influence to have their chieftain reply favorably to the proposals of the mediators.

In Conference With Lind.

Luis Cabarer, mentioned as a probable delegate to the peace conference, should Carranza agree to participate, was in conference with Mr. Lind for several hours after which Cabarera joined his colleagues, Mr. Zubaran, Jose Vasconcelos and Juan F. Urquidi.

While mediation waited on Carranza, the subject of ammunition bound from the United States for Carranza's forces was uppermost in discussion in official circles. It became known that Admiral Badger had been instructed by cable to keep watch on the Mexican Federal gunboats in the vicinity of Puerto Mexico, in view of reports that Huerta proposed to prevent, if possible, the landing at Tampico of munitions en route to Carranza on the Cuban steamer Antilla.

Naval officers expressed doubt as to whether the Mexican boats could maintain a successful blockade of Tampico with their base of supplies so far removed.

Conflicting statements as to the probable attitude of the United States regarding shipments of arms to the Mexican contending factions were difficult to reconcile. Today's developments threw little light on the subject, though in some quarters the view was expressed that the American government would endeavor to prevent the delivery of arms to Carranza's forces to influence him to incline a favorable ear toward peace proposals at Niagara Falls.

It is pointed out it would be easy for Admiral Badger to stop any ammunition consignments from entering Mexican ports if he were ordered to do so, but while officials have asserted the right to stop such shipments at American ports, they have not yet made up their minds to extend their authority to the high seas so as to prevent delivery.

Silence is Favorable.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—Mediation waited another day for word from Gen. Carranza on Constitutionalist participation at the conferences here, but no word came. The silence was regarded as favorable for it was interpreted to mean that the Constitutionalists were weighing carefully the advantages of mediation.

There were no conferences again today. The American commissioners stayed at their hotel studying data already furnished them by Washington on persons mentioned for the new provisional government. The Mexican delegates talked among themselves. An answer from Carranza—or at least an intimation of its character—is expected tomorrow. Should the Constitutionalists decide to send delegates, there will be a delay of a few days as the mediators have asked them to send their representatives at their convenience, affording time for information by Gen. Carranza.

In that event, the mediators may declare a short recess. The work would be renewed as rapidly as possible and the mediators are confident of making even faster progress than heretofore when they have all parties in the controversy represented.

Means of communication for the Constitutionalists are even better than is possessed by the Huerta delegates. A direct telegraph line could be set up from here to Durango, Mex., Gen. Carranza's headquarters so that he could be kept constantly informed and furnish prompt replies to questions as they arise.

Seeking an Understanding.

Tampico, June 3, (Via Brownsville, Texas, June 4.)—R. Everbusch, German consul here, is negotiating with the local authorities with the object of reaching an understanding by means of which the attestation either of the present Mexican consuls or of consular agents appointed by the Constitutionalists at European ports will be acceptable on invoices of merchandise consigned to Mexican ports under the control of Carranza. No determination has been reached today, although the Constitutionalists apparently were disposed to agree to the suggestion. Mr. Everbausch leaves tomorrow for Mexico City by way of Vera Cruz for a conference on the subject with Admiral Von Hintze, German minister to Mexico.

CEREMONY MARRED BY THUNDER STORM

Thousands Attend Unveiling of Confederate Monument

TRIBUTE TO WILSON

Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, in Presenting the Monument to the Government, Likened Spirit to Jefferson's.

Washington, June 4.—A terrific thunder storm broke over Arlington National Cemetery late today while President Wilson was addressing a great crowd gathered for the unveiling of the monument erected there to the Confederate dead. Rain drenched the blue and gray veterans and women and children before they could seek shelter. There was a wild dash for automobiles and trolley cars, participants and spectators alike forgetting the almost finished programme.

The President, who had cut short his speech as the rising wind and darkening skies announced the storm's approach, hurried to his car with his two daughters, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre. They were inside before the rain came, but the machine's top afforded poor protection and the party was drenched on the seven-mile drive back to Washington.

The ceremonies were held at the base of the magnificent monument in the Confederate section of the cemetery. Only a slight canopy protected the speakers and the crowd was without shelter and far from any buildings.

Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, made the address presenting the monument to the President on behalf of the women of the Confederacy. Tumultuous applause greeted her when she said:

"Yours, Mr. President, was Jefferson's spirit when at Mobile you said the United States had no interest in Mexico or any other foreign lands, except to see that the citizens enjoyed the right to the pursuit of happiness under a constitutional and just government."

Both Sides Present.

Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans were notable figures among the speakers and both were cheered with equal enthusiasm.

All the speakers commented on the appropriateness of delivering the memorial to the government through a Southern-born President. The President said:

"I assure you that I am profoundly aware of the solemn significance of the thing that has taken place. The Daughters of the Confederacy have presented a memorial of their dead to the government of the United States. I hope that you have noted the history of the conception of this idea. It was proposed by a President of the United States who himself had been a distinguished officer in the Union army. It was authorized by an act of Congress of the United States."

NEW RESERVE SYSTEM NEARING COMPLETION

Will Be in Full Operation by August First

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and President Wilson Confer Upon Personnel of Reserve Board. Three Certain.

Washington, June 4.—With the nominations of the entire Federal Reserve Board expected to be sent to the Senate by President Wilson within a few days, Secretary McAdoo, after a conference tonight with the President announced that the election of directors of the new reserve banks should be completed about July 1st and the banks should be fully organized and ready to begin business about August 1st.

The Secretary said he had talked with the President about the personnel of the reserve board, but declined to give definite information in this connection. Paul M. Warburg, New York; W. P. G. Harding, Birmingham, Ala., and A. C. Miller, San Francisco, already have accepted membership on the board, leaving two members to be selected.

Charles S. Hamlin, now assistant secretary of the treasury, and E. C. Simmons, St. Louis, have been mentioned most prominently for the remaining positions. It was intimated in official circles, however, that Mr. Hamlin might not be appointed because of his value in his present position.

Secretary McAdoo gave out a statement during the day in which he said the organization of the Federal Reserve banks had proceeded rapidly and satisfactorily and was ahead of the schedule mapped out.

MELLEN DID NOT SHIELD MORGAN

Cass Ledyard Denies Testimony of Former President

VOLUNTARY WITNESS

Mellen's Letter to District Attorney Not One Accepting Responcibility But One From a Man Claiming Innocence.

Washington, June 4.—Charles S. Mellen's recent testimony that he as president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad allowed himself to be indicted in the Grand Trunk case to shield the late J. Pierpont Morgan was flatly denied before the Inter-State Commerce Commission today by Lewis Cass Ledyard, of New York, a New Haven director at the time.

"I want to say in the most unqualified terms, "Mr. Ledyard declared, "that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a vicarious sacrifice for Mr. Morgan."

Telling of the letter in regard to the Grand Trunk investigation to the United States District Attorney at New York written by Mr. Mellen in the presence of E. D. Ribbins, counsel for the New Haven, and himself, Mr. Ledyard said:

"That letter was not the letter of a man accepting responisibility. It was the letter of a man claiming innocence.'

Mr. Ledyard took the stand as a voluntary witness in the commission's investigation into the New Haven's financial affairs, and was not sworn. The supoena issued for him some time ago had been withdrawn, but he urged that he be allowed to make a statement.

Earlier in the day, William Skinner completed his testimony begun yesterday. He said he could not recall any instance in which Mr. Morgan had tried to dominate the board of directors.

Mr. Ledyard said that when he began to take an active part in the affairs of the New Haven about $13,000,000 already had been expended for the acquisition of the West Chester road. He declared he knew nothing of any transaction with former police Inspector Thomas F. Byrns, of New York or of any negotiations with politicians.

Billard Company Matters.

Taking up Billard company matters, Mr. Ledyard said:

"While I was in Europe in 1908 the Boston and Main stock was sold to Mr. Billard and after my return I asked Mr. Mellen if the sale were outright or a 'dummy' transation. He told me the sale was made outright"

"I asked who Billard was and he replied: "He is a wealthy Connecticut man. I asked why the sale was made to Mr. Billard and Mr. Mellen replied that it was because Billard was a 'friend of the New Haven interests.' I then inquired why this was not mentioned in the reply to the Massachusetts legislature. Mr. Mellen became excited. He seemed to think I was showing lack of confidence in him. Later, the answer to the Massachusetts Legislature was amended in accordance with my suggestion."

SENATE COMMITTEE COMPLETES HEARING

On the Proposed Anti-Trust Legislation

Next Week Will be Devoted to the Selection of a Bill or Bills to be Reported to Senate—Further Action.

Washington, June 4.—With testimony today by two railroad attorneys, the Senate Inter-State Commerce committee practically completed its anti-trust hearings, and next week will take up the task of settling upon one or more bills to report to the Senate.

The committee has before it a mass of testimony from many parties interested in the proposed legislation and drafts of several bills of varying scope. Early next week it probably will receive a portion of the anti-trust legislation approved by the House, and from out of all this material will come a definite plan.

In the absence of definite word from the White House, an effort probably will be made to report on a comprehensive bill. A motion is pending before the committee to report only a trade commisison bill, and defer action on other subjects until next Winter.

Many Senators openly favor this plan, and the testimony of many witnesses is certain to lead to a more careful scrutiny of the legislation to receive committee approval. For the present, however, the committee probably will proceed on the theory that the Senate shall pass sweeping legislation before adjournment, and will report only measures that will give it opportunity.

The committee listened today to objections to the House so-called Railway Capitalization bill, from George F. Brownell, president of the Erie Railroad, and E. S. Jouett, general counsel for the Louisville and Nashville.

TO ANSWER NOTE FROM SALTILLO

Gen. Carranza Will Reply to Mediators' Message

ANOTHER STATEMENT

Semi-Official Word Comes from Durango Upon the Three Cornered Conference at Niagara Falls—Fighting.

El Paso, Texas, June 4.—General Carranza announced today through agents here that he would not make answer to the communication of the mediators, nor issue his proclamation dealing with the formation of a provisional government in Northern Mexico until he had reached Saltillo.

At the same time it was announced that the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief had departed from Durango on his way to Saltillo by way of Torreon.

The delay in the issuance of the proclamation is believed to have been caused by some phase of the Niagara Falls conference and by the reported desire of Carranza formally to establish himself as provisional President at Saltillo.

Gen. Villa today was reported as preparing to move south from Chihuahua City to meet Carranza at Torrean and thence to proceed south on the campaigns against Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi.

Meanwhile, the creation of a new central military zone, in command of Gen. Natera was made yesterday by Carranza, continued to cause speculation as to its effect on Villa's military plans.

The opinions of those surrounding Carranza regarding the three-cornered conference at Niagara was reflected once more in a semi-official statement from Durango.

The statement follows:

"'Hamlet with Hamlet left out' is the way many Constitutionalist leaders here expressed themselves today regarding the conferences at Niagara Falls. That a plan can be found to settle interior affairs in Mexico without the participation of the Constitutionalist government is regarded by them as impossible. They point out that the only party directly interested in Mexica which has been represented in the formation of the Niagara Falls plans has been that of Huerta.

"This party, defeated by the Constitutionalists at every point is in the throes of dissolution and is in no condition to fulfill any pledges that might be made. The Constitutionalists have declared repeatedly that the sole solution of the internal difficulties of the country was the elimination of Huerta and his party from politics.

"The Constitutionalists emphasize the fact that they will recognize only a government established under the plan of Guadaloupe at the triumph of the revolution. By this time, the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalist party will be provisional President of Mexico while elections are being verified and Constitutional order is restored.

"In a word the Constitutionalists think it would be well for the commission to acquaint themselves with the facts before committing themselves to a programme which there is no possibility of their carrying out."

Guadalajara Surrounded.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., June 3. (via wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 4.)—Guadalajara, the objective point of the recent operations of the Constitutionalist army of the northwest, under command of Gen. Obregon, has been effectually surrounded. Three columns of Obregon's army, according to official information reaching Admiral Howard, have succeeded in shutting off the city to the National capital on the east and Manzanillo on the Pacific coast on the west. Communication between the west coast of Mexico and Mexico City has been completely severed according to information reaching the American fleet here today.

A party of Constitutionalists en route from San Blas to Les Tres Marias Islands, 60 miles west of Tepic have captured the Federal prison and the radio station which will isolate the Huerta troops operating in the west, from any direct touch with their chief.

The schooner Leonor with a cargo of supplies for the beleaguered Federal garrison of Mazatlan, was prevented from discharging her freight today by the dangerous fire of Gen. Obregon's Constitutionalist batteries. The captain of the vessel announced that he would attempt tonight to run the Constitutionalist fire.

Colima, capital of the State of that name, and one of the most important cities in southwestern Mexico, has fallen into the hands of the Constitutionalists under Gen. Alamillo, former Governor of Colima, according to official information furnished Admiral Howard late today by a Constitutionalist officer.

WRECK ON MAIN LINE.

Head-on Collision of Freights Near Benson—Arm Broken.

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 4.—Northbound freight, third section of No. 208, on Fayetteville district, plunged head-on this afternoon into a southbound material train at Alaska, near Benson. Both engines were badly damaged and three empty cars derailed. Four negro helpers sustained injuries, the worst of which was a broken arm. Two were brought to the relief hospital here.

The northbound train was in charge of Engineer Tom Jenkins, who was slightly bruised, otherwise unhurt. Engineer Buchannan, of the southbound train, was unhurt. The wreck was passed by detouring over the new double tracking. A wreck train from South Rocky Mount went to the scene. The cause of the wreck is unknown.

Chicago-Cleveland Game Only One of American And National Leagues

New York, June 4.—After nearly three weeks of almost uninterrupted fair weather, Major League baseball encountered inclement conditions unusual to June today, with the result that in the two senior organizations only one game was played,—the Chicago-Cleveland American League at Chicago. With two exceptions today's were the only postponements of big league games since May 13th.

Double headers had been fairly well played off but today's general rain came to start the double bill programme all over again.

MENS SINGLES FINALS FOR PRIVILEGE OF MEETING MR. THORNTON.

Richmond, Va., June 4.—T. R. Pell of New York and Irving Wright of Boston wil play the final round in the men's singles for the privilege to meet Dr. Nat Thornton, of Atlanta, present holder of the Old Dominion Tennis Tournament trophy, on Saturday. Miss Clara Cassell of New York and Miss Mary Wagner, of New York, National in-door tennis champion, will contest for the privilege of meeting Mrs. Connie Sullivan, of Richmond, holder of the title in womens singles.

The surprise of the day was the ease with which Irving Wright defeated Wylie Grant, of New York, indoor champion, taking two straight sets 6-2, 6-3.

Pell had an even easier match with W. F. Harrity, Jr., of Philadelphia, defeating his man 6-2, 6-1.

In the womans sinbles Miss Wagner had a rather still battle taking care of Mrs. C. N. Beard, of East Orange, N. J. Mrs. Beard won the first set in good style, the match ending 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Pell and Grant won the championship in the mens doubles defeating Irving and Beals Wright in the hardest match of the day, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 11-9.

Mrs. Sulivan and Miss Neely, of Richmond, will play Miss Wagner and Miss Cassell for the club championship in womens doubles.

SLOOP RESOLUTE WON A HOLLOW VICTORY YESTERDAY

Vanitie Dropped Out of Lead to Rescue Two of Her Crew.

Rye, N. Y., June 4.—The third race of the initial series for the America's cup defense candidate yachts was won on Long Island sound today by the sloop Resolute after the Vanitie in the lead, withdrew to assist in the rescue of two of her seamen, washed overboard during the first leg of the race.

Once the Gardner designed single sticker dropped out of the race, the Resolute was assured of a hollow victory and the contest originally planned as an 18-mile race was shortened half that distance. The Herreshoff craft crossed the finish 53 minutes and 41 seconds after the start.

Winning today's race gave the Resolute two out of the series of three matches begun Tuesday. The yacht will renew their contest Saturday.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM FOR LEGALIZED PRIMARY

Overman and the others who have come into positions of power in the National counsels.

He paid tribute to President Wilson, in his quick and complete work of clearing the way for the repeal of vicious Republican legislation and clearing out of lobbyists, making way for the salutary legislation that is now being enacted.

Tenth district—C. A. Webb, J. H. Dilliard, J. W. Ferguson, W. E. Breese, J. C. Mills, J. C. L. Bird.

At 1:30 o'clock the convention adjourned to 3:30 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The convention reconvened at 3:30 o'clock. The first business was the report of the committee on permanent organization. This was adopted, making Hugh G. Chatham, of Forsyth, permanent chairman, George L. Peterson, of Sampson, permanent secretary, and W. W. Willson and E. E. Britton, of Wake, assistant secretaries.

W. E. Daniel and L. D. Robinson were named as a committee to escort the permanent chairman to the rostrum. Mr. Chatham made no speech, merely thanking the convention in a cordial way.

Senator Overman Re-Nominated.

The convention took up the nomination of candidates, the first being United States senator. Senator Lee S. Overman was placed in nomination to succeed himself by Hon. Theo. F. Kluttz, former congressman from Salusbury, who pointed out North Carolina's part in the affairs of government at Washington and the positions of power and influence maintained by Senators Simmons and Overman, due, he declared, in a large measure to their length of service as well as to their ability and character. He declared that the convention would honor itself by renominating for a third time Hon. Lee S. Overman, who is now chairman of the Rules committee, second on the appropriation committee, and other committee connections of much importance. He gave a running statement of the honored career of Senator Overman and something of what he has accomplished during his term in the Senate.

The nomination was seconded by Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby. There was a motion by Judge G. P. Bell, of the Corporation Commission, that the nominations be closed and Senator Overman be nominated by acclamation. This course was taken amid great enthusiasm.

E. F. Lovell and D. Y. Cooper were sent as a special committee to escort Senator Overman to the auditorium. They returned with the Senator, who favored the convention with a stirring speech in which he expressed his appreciation for the reaffirmation of their confidence in him, pledging his best efforts, and discussed in a manner that held the convention with the closest attention many of the greatest national issues.

When the Senator spoke of the influence that is commanded at Washington by North Carolinaians, Secretary Daniels, Claude Kitchin, Yates Webb and the rest, the convention cheered most lustily applause reaching a distinct climax when he mentioned the chairman of the Senate Finance committee, Senator Simmons. Many rose in their seats and the speaker was obliged to wait for quiet to be restored.

Travis Nominated.

The nomination of Corporation Commissioner was next and Hon. E. L. Travis, present chairman of the commission, was placed in nomination to succeed himself by Hon. W. B. Daniel, who claimed the credit for first suggesting the name of Mr. Travis to Governor Kitchin for appointment on the commission when the death of Commissioner Henry C. Brown occurred. He declared that the manner in which Mr. Travis has performed his duties as commissioner since that appointment fully justified the support that had been given him. He discussed at some length the work of Mr. Travis as commissioner and the record of the commission in its work. He treated especially the freight rate conditions and the part that the Corporation Commission has played in gaining the concessions in interestate rates, most especially. The nomination of Mr. Travis was enthusiastically received. On motion of S. M. Gattis, of Orange, the nomination was made by acclamation, there being one discordant vote in opposition that called forth a storm of shouts of "Put him out" for the man who voted "No."

Mr. Travis was called out and spoke very briefly, modestly reviewing something of his work and pledging his best efforts in the whole scope of his work.

Mr. Travis declared that the work was by no means finished, that what the commission had done in the past was only a beginning. He said that be considered the nomination an indorsement of their work and a sign that the people were willing for them to go forward with the work as they had begun.

Judicial Nomination Confirmed.

A resolution was introduced by Z. V. Long, of Iredel, which declared the nominees of the judicial conventions to be the nominees of this State convention. The judges who were nominated by their respective conventions were indorsed as the nominees of the party. The resolution was adopted.

Craig Called and Speaks.

There were calls all over the hall for Governor Craig, and he was escorted to the platform amid loud cheering. "The Democratic party has seen the rise and fall of all the political parties," he said, "Now, it has just seen the total destruction of the Republican party. We have Tom Settle and Carl Duncan, I believe, standing as curiosities of a past condition of affairs in North Carolina."

The Governor declared that he believed in primaries and hoped the convention would put a plank in the platform indorsing a legalized Statewide primary. "I am not a reactionary and never have been," said he, "but I am opposed to the initiative and referendum." Loud applause followed this statement, it being noticeable that Senator Overman joined in it. "I do not believe this measure is needed at this time. The Legislatures have always been responsive to the people, but some say that the last Legislature did not give us a primary. Well, they should not have passed the primary act that was before them at the last session." He advocated a plank favoring a restriction whereby no child under the age of 14 be allowed to work in the factories and no woman to work in the mills at night. The Governor made appeal to the delegates that this convention be conducted so the party will grow in usefulness and confidence in this country.

Almost Unanimous for Exemption

A resolution was introduced by Editor E. E. Britton, indorsing President Wilson's policy in urging the immedate repeal of the Panama canal free tolls exempton bill. The resolution was passed by almost a unanimous vote.

Not For Woman Suffrage.

A resolution favoring woman suffrage was almost tabled, Chairman Chatham saying that he would not tell how the men voted.

The report of the platform committee not being ready, the convention adjoined to 8 o'clock.

Secretary Redfield Speaks.

When the convention reconvened at 8 o'clock, the platform committee was still not ready to report, and at 8:30 o'clock Secretary Wm. C. Redfield, of the United States Department of Commerce, was introduced to the convention by A. B. Andrews, Jr. and delivered an address, in which he presented the splendid success that has attended the Democratic administration, the address being especially well received. He spoke for about an hour.

The platform committee reported through Hon. Cameron Morrison, as chairman, as follows:

Platform Committee's Report.

"We, the representatives of the Democratic party, assembled in convention under conditions of Democratic responsibility in State and Nation, rejoice in the large measure of success with which Democratic promises have been enacted into law, and with which Democratic principles have been applied in restoring equal opportunities to all sections and all classes.

"We reaffirm our allegiance to the cardinal principles of Democratic government and again present our cause to the people in full confidence that a continuation of Democratic control will result in a complete restoration of the high ideals of constitutional government as established by the fathers of the Republic and interpreted to meet the needs of the progress of the times.

"We endorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson and the broad statesmanship, high ideals, earnestness and application with which he is administering his high office. The Democratic party under brave and wise leadership has merited the confidence and support of the American people. It has restored the government to the people, and wrested the government from the hands of the favored classes under which the Republicans had placed it. The tariff has been revised downward and the power to tax the people wrested from the favored few. It has destroyed the monopoly of credit, and enacted a banking system which will endure, equal banking facilities for all the people, without regard to section or class.

"We especially commend the just and patriotic foreign policy of the President of the United States in dealing with other nations. Our country, under the guidance of President Wilson's great intelligence and sincere love of justice, has acknowledged no standard of conduct beneath that demanded by Christian nations.

"We heartily endorse the record of achievement and leadership in the National Congress of our United States Senators and Representatives, and take pride in the opportunity that came to our State to furnish their wise and seasoned leadership in the successful working out of the great problems of the nation's Democratic administration.

"We endorse the administration of Governor Locke Craig and the other State officials, and especially commend the successful efforts of the General Assembly, the Governor and the Corporation Commission for the readjustment of intra-State freight rates, and express the confidence that their zeal in this cause will be productive of further fruitful results until discrimination will be entirely removed, and we pledge a continuation of our efforts to remove all such discriminations.

"We rejoice in the progress our State is making in the cause of education of all the children under Democratic rule, and we pledge to the people of the State the continued support of the party until a six months' school in every district throughout North Carolina shall be realized, and that the resources of the State will be used under Democratic rule to promote this end just as rapidly as economical conditions will permit, and to this end we urge co-operation of State and county for the establishment of six months' school terms.

"We commend efforts for the spread of the work of improving the health of the people, and for the eradication of diseases and preventing infection, and commend the work of those men engaged in this work.

"We stand for a strict upholding of the prohibition of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors, and note with gratification that great progress has been made in the enforcement of these laws, and that drinking and drunkenness are largely on the decrease among our people.

For State-Wide Legalized Primary.

"We endorse the legalized Statewide primary for National, State and judicial officers, and pledge the party to the endorsement of such a law as will make this principle apply to all political parties.

"We recommend that our penal system be revised in the light of the most modern methods.

"We congratulate all concerned upon the advances made by our Governor and the General Assembly and especially upon the epoch-making victory recently won before the Inter-State Commerce Commission, in the matter of relieving North Carolina points of the discriminations in freight tariffs in favor of other points in other States, and we urge that the struggle so well begun shall be pressed until there shall not remain a shadow of suspicion that the people of this State labor under any disadvantage so far as the common carriers are concerned, both inter-State and intra-State.

"We likewise ask that the present investigation of insurance rates be pushed to a culmination that will remove all question as to discriminations adverse to our people.

"We bring before our party the special demand and the needs of the farmers of North Carolina, in the conviction that all that serves them serves all the people.

"We recommend that the State follow up its increasingly useful work of inspection, education and instruction, with aid to a system of rural credits designed to enable the producers of the wealth from which the State draws its life to manage their enterprises at the lowest possible rate of interest,

BRUNSWICK FOR GOOD ROADS

Sentiment Active and Aggressive—Smithville Township to Vote on Roads Bonds.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Southport, N. C., June 4.—The good roads sentiment continues to be active and aggressive in Brunswick. This was noticeably so in the county commissioners meeting, held here this week, when those interested in the proposed new and good roadway from this place to Wilmington, again appeared, and the commissioners gave a careful hearing to the matter, ordered the road laid out, and when the road had been built and there was need of a bridge across Walden Creek the Commissioners promised to have it built. This bridge will have a draw.

Also in the matter of good roads, the commissioners granted the petition of Smithville township tax-payers, asking for an election, at which an expression might be had for the issuance of $10,000. of township bonds, for road betterments. The date of election was set for July 11, and public notice ordered of same.

Local base ball enthusiasts are feeling very good over the fact that the Southport team has at last started winning games from the Fort Caswell teams. Early in the season the Southporters were downed time after time, but kept after the Soldiers, until they won, and now have two decisive victories to their credit.

Pretty stiff easterly winds have prevailed for several days, a fleet of the Beaufort, N. C., fishing boats being held here. Some of the boats carried their fat-backs to the C. C. Products Co's factory up the river.

The C. C. Products Company has its steamer out after menhaden, and the run of menhaden is said to be on, several boat-loads already caught.

The news of the death of Capt. Geo. M. Crapon, at New Bern, while not unexpected, yet brought sadness to his relatives and many friends who live here, his birth place and for a long time his home, and each year he spent some weeks here visiting. Capt. Crapon was a Confederate Veteran, seeing service in Virginia. He attended the Re-union at Jacksonville, this year.

Mr. Jim S. Williams and a party of friends, of Wilmington, in Mr. Williams' yacht, were down in these waters, this week, sheephead fishing these fish biting well just at present.

The two months "off duty" service for the Life Saving Stations crews, began after midnight, last Sunday, and will continue during June and July. During this period the captains are in charge of their respective stations, and while the crews are on duty, they are subject to call if there should be a need for their services, they receiving pay for such services.

The Coast Artillery will hold its encampment at Fort Caswell, August 3 to 14, and it is understood that the Boys Brigade has been invited to camp here this summer.

While nothing like a building boom is on, there is a revival in building here, several new houses beng reported as contracted for while there is more general repair work going on than for some months past.

D. F. KING FILES ANSWER

In Libel Suit Brought by A. L. Brooks at Greensboro.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Greensboro, N. C., June 3.—The answer of Mr. D. F. King, of Spray, to the complaint of former Solicitor A. L. Brooks, of this city, in the suit for damages for libel brought by Mr. Brooks against Mr. King has been filed in the superior court here by former Governor W. W. Kitchin, of counsel for the defendant.

The answer denies the material allegations of the complaint, especially those as to malice or that the statements made are libelous.

The action grows out of an article published in the Leaksville Courier by Mr. King several months ago, following the trial of a case in Rockingham court, in which Mr. Brooks and Messrs. C. O. McMichael and A. D. Ivie, of Rockingham county, appeared against him.

GRAND JURY FINDS TRUE BILL AGAINST MRS. HAND.

Charged With First Degree Murder in Killing Her Brother.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Burgaw, N. C., June 4.—The grand jury in the Superior Court here, Judge Chas. M. Cooke, presiding, today returned a true bill for murder in the first degree against Mrs. Grover C. Hand, charged with shooting and instantly killing her brother, George P. Jordan, at the home of their father, George F. Jordan, five miles east of here, a few days ago.

Tomorrow the court will take the case under consideration and decide as to what disposition is to be made of it for the present, Mrs. Hand being now at her home under surveillance, since the coroner's jury last week ordered that the sheriff take her in custody and hold her without bond. Her attorneys the same day made application to Judge Cooke, then at Wilmington, for a writ of habeas corpus, but the judge declined to take any action until he could come here and investigate the case, further than to order that she be held under guard at her home until further instructions were received from him.

Mrs. Hand's physical condition is such that she can hardly be tried at this term of court, and the same condition will probably preclude her being confined in jail. At first the coroner's jury instructed that she be held in bond in the sum of $1,000, but later decided a mistake had been made and ordered that she be taken in custody.

DISSATISFACTION IN NEWBERN OVER RESULT.

Even Bitterness Against Hood is Expressed.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., June 4.—In Newbern there is a general feeling of dissatisfaction over the result of the Democratic congressional convention held yesterday at Goldsboro which proved, it is said here, to be more of a farce than a meeting at which business of importance was to be discussed and the votes of the recent primary canvassed.

Friends of Charles R. Thomas claim that the nomination rightfully belongs to him, that if the process of elimination of the preferential primary had been carried out, he would have been the candidate. Mr. Thomas is today in Raleigh and a number of influential citizens have sent him messages assuring him that they will stand by him in any move that he cares to make, and will assist him in getting a square deal, if there is any possible way of doing this.

Denunciation of Geo. E. Hood, the nominee of the convention, is bitter here on account of the fact that Mr. Hood is alleged to have violated an agreement made between himself and Mr. Thomas to the effect that he would stand by the latter, insisting on nomination by elimination.

RECORDER J. A. ROWLAND OF LUMBERTON DEAD.

Passed Away Last Evening of Complication of Diseases.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 4.—This section was greatly shocked this evening when it was announced that Recorder John A. Rowland had died at 6 o'clock, his death resulting from a complication of diseases. He had been confined to his room for 12 days, but his many friends did not regard his condition as serious up to two or three days ago.

Mr. Rowland was about 40 years old. He was the only son of the late Congressman Alfred and Mrs. Susan Rowland. He is survived by his mother and three sisters.

KITCHIN RENOMINATED

Has no Opposition for Congress in Second District.

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 3.—By a unanimous vote, the second Congressional district convention, assembled in this city yesterday afternoon, nominated Hon. Claud Kitchin as the one choice to succeed himself to Congress from this district, which embraces the counties of Edgecombe, Wilson, Halifax, Vance, Bertie and Northampton. The meeting was called to order shortly after two o'clock at the Recorder's courtroom by Chairman Roscow, of Bertie county.

WOODMEN OF 14 COUNTIES MEET AT ROCKY MOUNT.

Annual Session of East Carolina District Held.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 4.—With representatives from 14 counties in the eastern section of the State in attendance, this city welcomed the 15th annual convention of the Woodmen of the World, who held forth here yesterday and last night.

With delegates from more than 100 camps and 400 visiting members attending, the hosts of the occasion, Tar River Camp and Keystone Camp, left no stone unturned to make the stay of the delegates pleasant.

The address of welcome on behalf of Rocky Mount was made by Mayor L. F. Tillery, while the response on the part of the visitors was by Hon. T. B. Cook, of Ahoskie. Following this response, Sovereign Manager of North Carolina E. B. Lewis addressed the meeting on the subject of "Woodcraft" and briefly rehearsed the growth in the State and Nation of this great fraternity. Following Mr. Lewis, Mr. P. C. Campton, of Durham, in a few well chosen remarks, told of the great work along all lines being done and of the phenomenal advances being made by the Woodmen in every State.

At 12:30 P. M. the meeting adjourned to the armory in the Rose building, where a dinner, of barbecue and delicious viands was served in a gracious manner to the 500 present.

At the afternoon session reports from all camps were received and all outstanding committees and general new business was taken up. At 6:30 a luncheon was served at the armory. At night the meeting was brought to a close with exercises at the Masonic Opera House when Rev. G. W. Perryman, pastor of the First Baptist church of Norfolk, addressed the Woodmen and citizens.

MEMBERS OF RICHMOND FEDERAL RESERVE BANK.

North Carolina List Includes Two Wilmington Nationals.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The following North Carolina National banks are members of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, according to a statement issued by Comptroller Williams today:

American Exchange National and the Greensboro National, Greensboro; Commercial National, Merchants & Farmers' and First National, Charlotte; First National and Citizens' National, Durham; First National, Elizabeth City; First National, Gastonia; National Bank of Goldsboro; First National, Hickory; Commercial National, High Point; National Bank of Kinston; National Bank of Newbern; Citizens' National and Commercial National, Raleigh; People's National, Salisbury; First National of Shelby; First National, Washington; American National and Murchison National, Wilmington; First National, Wilson; and People's National, Winston-Salem. P. R. A.

Before the Recorder.

Lloyd Haynes, a young white man, who escaped from the county roads last August after serving a month of a sentence, was captured in Concord a few days ago, and was brought back to the city yesterday by Mr. H. Mack Godwin. He was arraigned before the Recorder yesterday on a charge of escaping from the roads. The case was continued until Wednesday. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs in a case against Archie Grant, colored, charged with resisting an officer.

Improvements at Baxter's.

Visitors to the popular rendezvous of the Baxter Tobacco Co., No. 18 North Front street, are delighted with a number of improvements that have been made lately, notably the installation of five handsome pocket billiard tables. They are of the improved Phister type, return ball attachment, the very newest style, and were purchased from the Brunswick Balke Callender Co., who sent a representative here to place them. Mr. Baxter invites his friends to call and see the new tables.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed, to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

Many an old fashioned politician is entitled to the degree of D. D. (doctor of dickers.)

Oh, if you don't watch 'em they will insist on clinging to the omission part of a commission government.

A contemporary says "The Georgia peach is in our midst." Then trust to luck, if it is the kind that is pulled green and eaten raw.

Gifford Pinchot states that his name should be pronounced as if it were Pin-cho, with accent on the Pin. Before people will ge used to pronouncing Pincho, the Pennsylvania election returns will make his name "mud."

Of our own knowledge the "soap box primary" was condemned as "N. G." at least twenty years ago, but it seems that North Carolina politicians continue to work one off on unsuspecting voters every now and then.

The Goldsboro Buggy Company is a flourishing manufacturing establishment that turns out 2,000 vehicles annually. There are many industries which could be made a means of building up our cities if we would but look around and see that they are started.

We get it from the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot that "the man behind a Boston bar claims to be the king of Siam." After several rounds, the men in front of the bar feel as if they held a mortgage on Siam and had just collected the money from the King.

The Greensboro News makes this pointed remark: "The right sort of primary might have saved a lot of Democratic confusion at Waynesville." Also a lot of confusion, complications, bad blood and biter dissention in the Third District. When are we going to learn?

State Republican Chairman Barnes, of New York, says he has no notion of retiring under fire. He really doesn't care to be State chairman any longer, but if there are people who think they can put him out of business he will stay in so he can make them fight for all they can get out of him. Barnes seems to be the Huerta of New York.

A London dispatch to the New York Journal of Commerce says additional reports from the manufacturing centres in Great Britain indicate that idle machinery is on the increase. Dullness in the trade is the cause, but could not the anti-Wilson proaganda in the United States persuade England that the revision of the American tariff is doing all the mischief?

The Wilson administration is being assaulted. All administrations have had to be on the defensive so there is nothing new in the fact that a whole lot of people are throwing in a lot of blackballs against the Democratic way of doing things. Nobody should expect a grouchy opposition to throw bouquets, but it was altogether to have been anticipated that it would throw all kinds of fits.

Saying a thing right into a man's teeth is getting to be dangerous, even at long distance. A New York man while talking over the telephone received a terrible shock, not from the talker but from the electric current. It came very nearly yanking out his teeth, as they were filled with metal which made a conductor for the "juice." The shock centered in his mouth and for the moment he was utterly speechless.

The nomination of Hon. George E. Hood as congressman from the Third North Carolina District at Goldsboro on Wednesday will give great pleasure to his many friends all over the State. Without prejudice to ex-Congressman Thomas' appeal to the State Committee, there was a ground swell in the convention for Hood that must have been more than gratifying to that sterling young Democrat of the militant Third.

THE STATE PRESS AND THE PORT.

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Press Association to be held at Wrightsville Beach, June 24 to 26, will not only prove to be a delightful outing for the editors but the occasion and the conference of the editors and publishers will be fraught with interest and advantage for the craft. It is an opportunity for them, and it is for Wilmington and Southport to see their opportunity on account of the coming of the editors.

The Southport News anticipates one of the advantages to be derived locally from the visit of the State's newspaper men, when it observes that the trip of the editors to Southport, June 26th, will prove to be "one of the most important happenings that could have been brought about." So it will. We always regard the visit of editors, whether they come singly or in number, as either ominous or auspicious. However, they are not coming to the Cape Fear country to hunt down something and write it up, but they are coming as the embodiment of the newspaper interests, and as recreationists and optimists.

Of course, editors make observations when they are out, and so it is that our esteemed contemporary rejoices that "the visit of the North Carolina editors at the present time is most opportune, as it will give them the opportunity of acquainting themselves with the State's great harbor, and seeing that the claims made for this harbor are fully justified."

That is all very true, but if Wilmington and Southport expect the editors to appreciate what this ocean gateway means to the State, they should provide them with the concrete facts. The editors can see a few things with their eyes, and they can remember many things that they hear, but they are not supposed to know all the advantages of the port of the State unless they are properly informed about them. They might be told about them, but the point we want to make is that they should be furnished the story in print so the facts can be presented at any time the editors are disposed to discuss the port and its possibilities and to keep up with the commerce of North Carolina. Editors might take a few notes and write them out, if they ever get time, but it sometimes happens that editors lose their notes or get too busy ever to refer to them again.

The time that editors feel like writing less is when they are off on a jaunt and so if we expect much out of them we will have to place in their hands the data which will show what the port and its possibilities are. The editors are not coming specially to see the port, but The News wants them to see the immense advantages of Wilmington and Southport, and the adaptability and capacity of the ocean gateway for a commercial development that pertains to the whole State as well as the Cape Fear cities. The editors ought to have it pressed upon them in a way that they will go away from here with enlarged views of the opportunity of the State on account of its outlet to the world's commerce.

WAS NOT A DARK HORSE.

In an editorial a few days ago concerning the unsatisfactory method of making nominations, followed by the Democracy in North Carolina, we unintentionally stepped on the toes of Representative H. L. Godwin, who is serving this district in Congress longer than any other Representative in our recollection. In order to show how our nominating system sometimes is responsible for the nomination of a "dark horse," we were mistaken in saying that Mr. Godwin was not a candidate before the convention when he received his first nomination.

A telegram from Mr. Godwin corrects us as to that statement, for as a matter of fact he did go before the convention as a candidate and did not get in as a dark horse. He was a regular candidate and was voted for on every ballot until the nomination came to him. He informs us that his candidacy "was well known months prior to the convention."

The Star is glad to set Mr. Godwin right as to that, but the point made as to the possibility of nominating a dark horse holds good, although it happens that it was not so in Mr. Godwin's case. We really were referring to the convention when a combination against the Hon. John D. Bellamy, then finishing two terms in Congress, defeated him for the nomination for a third term. A most useful Representative of the District was thus substituted by another nominee, and though he was a most excellent gentleman and served the District with great fidelity, the fact remains that we hardly let a member get his seat warmed till we put out another one in his place.

The Hon. G. B. Patterson succeeded the Hon. John D. Bellamy, and we presume he went into the convention as a candidate, although we do not now recollect. Anyhow, another combination put Mr. Patterson out of a third running, and so it went, up to the time Mr. Godwin came to the front. Up to this time he seems to be the only one who has managed to get away from those who are "after him".

Our real object has been to emphasize the fact that the longer service which a capable man can have in Congress the more useful he becomes to the district, according to his ability. Mr. Godwin knows that himself, from his own experience.

"THAT MONGREL PRIMARY."

That is the title of an editorial in the Mount Olive Tribune, referring to the rather unexpected "outcome" of the prefereential primary in the Third Congressional District, which outcome was made known in the Star's Goldsboro account of the Congressional Convention in that city on Wednesday. Nothing the complications brought on by that primary, the Tribune declares that as a first test of the system in North Carolina, that preferential primary was a great disappointment, "chiefly for the reason that it is going to operate somewhat against the establishment of a legalized primary in the State."

On the contary, it is one of the biggest arguments why the State should have a legalized primary system,and the Tribune does well to assert that "the people should understand that the fault is not with the system." As our esteemed Mount Olive contemporary goes on to say: "The Congressional Committee promulgated a corruption of the preferential primary system—a sort of mongrel affair which the members of the committee themselves never understood, as was clearly shown when division of opinion and dissension arose over computing the ballots."

In Goldsboro on Wednesday the District convention nominated the Hon. Geo. E. Hood, of Goldsboro, over former Representative Charles R. Thomas, of Newbern, and already the readers of the Star have learned that Mr. Thomas has appealed to the Democratic State Committee on the ground that the District convention had no power to disregard the preferential primary and was not called for the purpose of making a nomination but to declare the one made at the primary. Mr. Thomas is reported as makes the serious charge that "all the votes of the preferential primary have never been counted but are locked up in a bank vault in Goldsboro."

The Goldsboro convention was an unhappy affair for the Democratic family. Harsh words and fist fights enlivened the proceedings, but the worst of it all is that for lack of a legalized method of making nominations by direct ballot the party in the direct is torn all to pieces.

T. R.'S ATTACK FEEBLE.

We have been watching to see the effect of Colonel Roosevelt's widely-heralded blast against the Wilson administration, but from the general view taken of it, the opposition itself seems to be painfully disappointed because of the feebleness of the Colonel's onslaught. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphsia Record says the statement handed out by the Colonel last Saturday when he sailed from New York for Europe, has left a bad taste in the mouths of the opponents of the Wilson administration.

They are sorely disappointed that his volley turned out to be a discharge of wax bullets, without the impetus, force and facts that would have a harmful effect upon the Democratic administration. The disappointment is all the greater because Progressives and Regular Republicans had looked to the anticipated Roosevelt statement as a rallying cry for all the opponents of Democratic rule. They had hoped for a carefully prepared, vigorously phrased utterance which would represent the last word of possible criticism of the acts of the administsration. They hoped it would be a searching indictment and furnish the keynote for a movement to unite all forces which disapprove of the party in power in a purpose to elect an opposition candidate in 1916.

It is said the Colonel's slack wad discharged really will help the administration. It will wake up the Democratic Congress to the necessity of rushing the President's anti-trust legislation and other measures to completion, for the principal charge of Roosevelt, while aimed at the President, hits Congress for its disposition to go slow on some of the reforms which President Wilson has urged all along. Congress now realizes that it has been too slow in following a good leader, and it now sees the Administration attacked for sins of omission done by Congress. If it will accelerate the passage of the Wilson measures, the Roosevelt attack will do good for the Democratic cause.

Major Stedman's renomination for a third term in the House of Representatives by the Fifth District Democratic convention in Greensboro, on Wednesday, causes rejoicing in Wilmington and throughout Eastern North Carolina. It is unanimous down here for the Major, and the State is to be congratulated that it is to keep such an able, statesman—like man in Congress. His seat looked good to others, but they could not bring themselves up against what they knew would be a losing fight. At the same time, the Fifth has some of the best Congressional timber to be found in the State. The Fifth ought to leave it to the princely Stedman to say when he feels like letting somebody else serve the District.

In all the turmoil that has been centering about affairs municipal during the past several days, it was interesting to note yesterday that Superintendent of Streets John C. McAllister and Superintendent J. E. Holton, of the garbage department, had been going right on during the year "sawing wood and saying nothing." This gives us occasion to say that the increase of salary recently given Superintendent McAllister was well merited and really a matter of economy.

Mount Lassen, which has burst into eruption in Lower California, has shown no previous sign of disturbance since Columbus discovered America. However, geologists discovered that it was an extinct volcano, but no one ever thought it would ever spout fire and brimstone again. Several of those dead old volcanoes have left their signs behind in the piedmont and mountain regions of North Carolina, and if the earth continues to boil beneath the crust as it has been doing here of late all over the world, some of those ancient vents might bear watching.

CURRENT COMMENT.

If Mr. Holton thinks he can beat Major Stedman to it it seems that he is going to have a chance.—Durham Herald.

"No movement amounts to a hill of beans unless it is animated" asserts the Wilmington Star. Which amounts to about the same as saying that no wind amounts to anything unless it blows.—Richmond Journal.

The Republicans and Progressives held a meeting in Greensboro the other day and "get together" was the slogan of the meeting. They will all get together in plenty of time to nominate Mr. Roosevelt for the Presidency.—Charity and Children.

The milk situation in Wilmington, as transferred to The Observer's columns, brings up a suggestion as to the dairying facilities in Charlotte. It appears that the milk the Wilmington dealers charge 15 cents for is certified milk. To supply this quality of milk entails extra expense on the dairyman, but when the customer understands he is buying milk thus standardized, he knows what he is getting and is willing to pay the higher price. The proposition that a dairy which would supply certified milk would pay in Charlotte is no doubt a safe one.—Charlotte Observer.

"When Democrats stick together they get what is coming to them" the wise old philosopher of the Wilmington Star observes. Majority rule within the party is essential to the life and usefulness of the party as respect for it as between opposing parties is for the peace and happiness of the nation. When the nation chooses between parties the choice is accepted without a murmur. It should be the same way in the party and, happily, is that way so far as the Democratic party is concerned. Hanging together is better than hanging separately.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Right worthily were the degrees of doctor of laws bestowed by the University of North Carolina on Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, and William R. Allen, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. These men have excelled in their fields, and in honoring them the university was honoring itself. A similar honor would have been bestowed on Senator Furnifold M. Simmons on account of his leadership in Congress, but the Senator was prevented from being present by the tussle in the Senate over the bill to repeal free tolls for American coastwise shipping which demanded his presence in Washington.—Raleigh Times.

LARGE CONGREGATION HEARD MR. HAYNES LAST NIGHT

Preached on Prophecies Contained in Seventh Chapter of Daniel

The largest crowd yet attending a week-night service was present at the big tent at 11th. and Market street, last night to hear an address on the prophecy of the seventh chapter of Daniel by Evangelist Carlyle B. Haynes. The talk was illustrated by a number of large charts.

Declaring that in this chapter God gave instruction by the use of object lessons, using great animals to represent nations and empires as is done in the cartoons of the daily press, Mr. Haynes said:

"The kingdoms which have ruled the world are reprensented in this chapter as 'four great beasts' of prey. These beasts represent the four great universal empires of the world, babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece, and Rome.

"The fourth beast of verse seven represents Rome. It had ten horns, which represent the ten kingdoms into which Rome was divided between the years 351 and 476 A. D. Of these ten kingdoms only seven now remain, Germany France, England, Spain, Switzerland, Portugal and Italy, for three were to be 'plucked up' by another little horn which came up after the ten.

"This little horn represents the ecclesiastical empire of the papacy. Of this horn, the papacy, the prophecy says, 'He shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and shall think to change the times and the laws.' Has the papacy attempted to make a change in God's law? Yes, it has taken hold of the fourth commandment, the Sabbath commandment, and torn from its place in the heart of the law of God the Sabbath of Jehoavh, the only memorial of the great God ever given to man, and erected in its place a rival sabbath to serve another purpose.

"This prophecy has had a wonderful fulfillment and it shows us where we are living in the stream of time. Nearly all of it has been fulfilled. There remains but the 27th., verse yet to be carried out. There is to be a brief period of triumph for the papacy, and then the coming of the Lord in glory to convey his people to the Holy City."

Tonight a large crowd is looked for at the tent to hear an address by Mr. Haynes on "Satan-His Origin, His Work, and His Destiny."

FULL HEALTH BUDGET PASSED BY COUNCIL

Also Resolution for Investigation of Health Board

End to Controversy Came Yesterday Afternoon, Following Meeting of Citizens Committee Earlier in the Day.

One of the most remarkable public controversies in the history of Wilmington, prevailing for the past week following the action of City Council in reducing the appropriation for the health department by something more than $5,000, came to an end yesterday afternoon when at a special meeting attended by the councilmen and the committee of 25 appointed at the citizens mass meeting Monday night, as well as a number of interested citizens, Council by unanimous vote rescinded its former action and passed the health budget granting the full amount asked for by the Board of Health. All members of Council were present with the exception of Councilman T. W. Wood, who is out of the city.

The action of Council in passing the full budget followed a meeting of the citizens committee earlier in the day, at which time that body adopted a resolution calling upon Council to pass the budget in its entirely and providing that if members of Council would prefer written charges that the present health board is inefficient or that the money appropriated for its use is being expended injudiciously, an investigation be made by a committee of three, one members to be appointed by Council, one member by the citizens commitee and the other, at the request of the Board of County Commissioners, to be appointed by the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health service, the committee to report its findings to the citizens in mass meeting assembled. Following the passing of the budget, Council adopted another resolution calling for the investigation, but making no provision as to the written charges of inefficiency.

None of the seven physicians reported as being of the opinion that the present health board was inefficient, and invited to atend the meeting through a resolution offered by Councilman Jones on the day previous, were present yesterday.

The resolution providing that Council reopen the budget matter and make the appropriation as asked by the Board of Health was introduced by Councilman B. A. Merritt and was seconded by Councilman W. F. Jones, both of whom opposed the granting of the full budget last week. The resolution calling for an investigation was offered by Councilman Jones. Both were passed without a dissenting vote.

The meeting at one time seemed about to take a sensational turn, when, following a statement by Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the citizens committee, outlining the action of that body at its meeting earlier in the day, and the observation on his part that since the doctors invited to the meeting to state the reason for their reported opposition to the health administration had failed to show up, he saw nothing to justify the Council's position in refusing to pass the full health budget, Councilman Merritt declared that he had been pledged to secrecy on certain matters, and called upon Dr. C. P. Belles, a member of the Board of Health, to read some regulations which he had in his possession. However, after Dr. Belles had read the regulations, which are with reference to the hours that the health officials and employes shall be on duty, the hours the office shall be open, and other rules regarding the work of the department, which Dr. Belles prefaced with the statement that though these rules had never been adopted, they had been considered for some time, and in fact, many of them are already being carried out in the conduct of the department's work, those present seemed to be of the opinion that nothing sensational was contained in them. Chairman Willard, of the Board of Health was also present, and made some remarks on the regulations read by Dr. Belles. Mr. Merritt questioned Mr. Willard on several phases of the regulations, and their conversation at times bordered on heated lines.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was called to order by Mayor F. Q. Moore, and Councilman Merritt stated that the body would be glad to hear from Mr. Allan Taylor, chairman of the citizens committee.

Mr. Taylor declared that he did not think it necessary to go into any extended statement, but he reviewed briefly the action of the citizens committee in its meeting at noon, and read the resolution passed at this meeting, stating that this action, especially with reference to the investigation proposal, was taken in view of the statement from Mr. B. A. Merritt appearing in the morning paper in which it was outlined that Council, in its proposal of arbitration on the previous day, had not meant that the full work of the health department be suspended during the period of the investigation, but would go on during this time. The committee took it from that, Mr. Taylor said, that Council was willing to make the appropriation as asked by the Board, and then have the investigation made by the committee.

Mr. Merritt replied that he had not intended to convey the meaning that Council was willing to pass the budget in its entirely previous to the investigation, but that it was willing to provde funds to keep the work going until the investigation had been completed, and then, if it was found that the money was being expended judiciously, they would make the full appropriation.

Mr. Taylor said that he was sorry Mr. Merritt had been misunderstood, but that he thought the action of the committee and the resolution adopted covered the situation anyway. The committee had no political ends to serve, and it was acting only for the purpose of serving the public. He pointed out that if Council knew any facts as to the inefficiency of the Board of Health, then it was their duty to lay that information before the public, but in the meantime the

MORE TELEPHONE BOOTHS

Southern Bell Company Arranging to Put In Pay stations—Committee Makes Recommendation.

Mr. S. D. Lucas, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, stated last night that one of the features that he and other officials of the company had been working on for some time has been that of installing more telephone pay stations in Wilmington. Application was made last month to the Atlantic Coast Line for permission to install two and possibly three pay stations, he stated, and while the negotiations have not yet been completed, it is expected that the deal will be consummated within the next few days.

Mr. Lucas when asked about the matter stated that arrangements have already been made for installing nine additional public pay stations in the city. These will be located not only on Front street and in other business sections of Wilmington, but also in the residential sections. It is also expected that there will be others installed in the near future, bringing the total number up to 15 or 16.

The plans of the telephone people for the union station contemplate the installation of a telephone booth in the colored waiting room and one in the white waiting room. It is not improbable Mr. Lucas stated, that there would be two booths placed in the white waiting room.

Mr. Lucas' statements followed a meeting of the postoffice, telephone and telegraph committee of the Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday morning, at which time the committee recommended and endorsed the installation of a telephone pay station at the union station building here, as well as considering several other matters, and hearing suggestions from Postmaster H. McL. Green, a member of the committee, relative to the public co-operating in facilitating the handling of outbound mail through the local office.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. W. A. French, the chairman, and in attendance were Messrs. M. W. Divine and H. McL. Green. Messrs. T. E. Wallace and Raymond Hunt, the other two members, were absent.

The chairman, on motion of Mr. Divine, was instructed to take up with Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, the local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, the need of a pay station telephone booth in the union station, the committee having placed itself on record as unanimously endorsing the need for a booth there.

Postmaster Green read a letter from First Assistant Postmaster General Roper offering some suggestions as to how the public may co-operate in facilitating the handling of mail. Mr. Green then read the following suggestions as applicable to the local situation:

"1. The necessity of bringing mail to the office at least three times a day, instead of delivering it just before the closing of mails, especially the afternoon mails, is very important. Morning Northern mail closes at 5:55 P. M.

"2. That people give sufficient address on all mails; giving the number of their house and name of street if possible, and advise all correspondents to address to the box giving the box number or general delivery.

"3. Properly sealing the letters; as sealing them in large quantities with wet sponge causes them to stick together and in that way they would be missent and causes considerable trouble and delay.

"4. All parcel post matter has to be mailed at the office, and can be insured for five cents to the value of $25; ten cents to the value of $50.

"5. As far as possible all letter mail should be brought in packages "packed" ready tor stamping machine in order to facilitate despatching same and prevent delay."

APPOINTMENT OF INTERNES AT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Dr. G. E. Bowdoin, of Wilmington, Will be on Staff.

Dr. G. E. Bowdoin, of Wilmington, who was a member of the senior class of the University Medical School, of Richmond, Va., which was graduated last week, has been appointed an interne at the James Walker Memorial Hospital and will enter upon his duties on June 18th. He is well known here and has a host of friends who will be delighted to learn of his appointment. Dr. W. F. Tidmarsh, of Charlotte, a graduate of the North Carolina Medical College, has also been appointed an interne at the hospital and will arrive soon to take up his duties.

Dr. Joseph Akerman, the popular superintendent, stated last night that he was in correspondence with several young physicians with reference to the appointment of a third interne but that he was not yet in a position to announce who would be appointed to this vacancy. The appointment will be made in a few days.

He stated that Messrs. David Murchison and W. C. VonGlahon, two well known Wilmington young men, who are students at the Johns Hopkins University school of medicine, will be assistants at the hospital this summer. They will start to work in a few days.

Dr. Akerman feels especially fortunate in securing a staff of such able young physicians to assist him in carrying on the work of the institution, which is recognized as one of the best hospitals to be found in the State.

Wilmingtonians Will Attend.

The Grand Lodge meeting of the Knights of Pythias will be held in Durham next week, beginning Tuesday night, and it is expected that there will be a number of Wilmingtonians who will attend. Among these are Capt. Thomas D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer, and editor of the Carolina Pythian; Col. Walker Taylor, Past Grand Chancellor; Joseph W. Little, Esq., member of the Judiciary committee; Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Acme, member of the board of trustees of the Pythian Orphanage, and the following delegates from the local lodges: Messrs. W. H. McClain, J. W. Smith and C. E. Haskett.

Death of Infant Daughter.

Friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. James Swinson in the death of their little daughter, Ruth, 13 months of age, which occurred at the family residence on the Castle Haynes road yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock following an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be held from the residence this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS CLOSE

Commencement Exercises at Bear Memorial Yesterday—Union School Ends Today.

The commencement exercises of the Isaac Bear Memorial School were held in the handsome school auritorium yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with a large attendance of visitors, patrons and friends of the school. The school committee for the district, composed of Messrs. C. VanLeuven, Edwin Metts and J. F. Mann were present in a body. The closing exercises of the Union school will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The stage at the Bear Memorial school yesterday was beautifully decorated with flowers from the children's rooms. The followng programme was rendered in a most pleasing manner by the members of the school:

Programme of Exercises.

I. Recitation—"The Tell-tales."—Mary Bellamy Bagg, Howard Kares.

II. Primary Play—"The Fairy Garden." characters as follows:

Fairy—Carrie McLean Taylor.

Butercups—Miriam Weeks, Nancy Taylor, Audrey Williams, Margaret Tiencken.

Garden Boys—Robert Garrett, Leo. Sykes, Cecil King, Ben Merritt, Robert Ruark, Edwin Metts.

III. Chorus—"Welcome to Spring."—5th and 6th Grade Girls.

The children dressed to represent the different flowers made a beautiful scene. The "farmer boys" of the First grade afforded much amusement with their songs, costumes and clever acting.

Picture Presented.

At the close of programme by the children, Mrs. Richard Price was introduced to the audience and in an appropriate address presented for the Cape Fear Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy a beautiful picture of Jackson and Lee which was given to the school by Mrs. Sol Sternberger. This historic picture makes a valuable addition to the already splendid collection with which the halls and the different recitation rooms of the school are decorated.

Superintendent Blair in beha'f of Sorosis made announcement of several prizes which were won by this school. The first prize was a ten dollar gold piece for the most beautiful school ground in New Hanover county. The second prize was a five dollar gold piece for the best display of window boxes, which was won by the Fifth grade, of which Miss Bell is the teacher. George Rountree, Jr., received this prize for the class. The third prize was five dollars in money, which went to William Rourk, who secured the greatest number of signatures of people who decorated and beautified their yards and plazas during the year.

Superintendent Blair then announced a gift of a valuable piece of apparatus, a children's slide, which was made by Mr. Sam Bear just before leaving several months ago for Europe. This announcement was received with great applause by the children.

A photograph of the building was taken a day or two ago which together with a programme of the closing exercises will be sent to Mr. Blair who is now enjoying a vacation in Europe.

Grand Honor Roll.

After the reading of the Grand Honor roll, certificates of attendance were given the students who were either absent nor tardy during the year. The grand honor roll is as follows:

Fourth Grade—Carrie McLean Taylor, Katie Orr, Leona Colwell.

Fifth Grade—Gertrude Browne, Allean Kares, Katherine Rehder, Liston Humphreys, Elsie McGlaughon, Rena Cole.

Sixth Grade—Kathleen Windley, Estelle Anderson, Alice Brown, Lillie Davis, Gertrude Topel, Margaret Branch, Fannie Northrop.

Perfect Atendance Record

Fourth Grade—Two Years—Lila May McAllister.

Fifth Grade—One year—Gertrude Brown, Catherine Rehder—Two Years—Richard King.

Sixth Grade—One Year — Alice Brown—Two Years, Margaret Branch.

Miss Julia Hall, the principal, and her efficient corps of teachers have had a most successful year and the results of their labors were shown in the charming manner in which the pupils took their parts on the programme. Exhibitions on the work of the children in the different department were shown in the recitation rooms and were much admired by the visitors to the school.

At the conclusion of the exercises Rr. Dr. A. D. McClure, made a short address in which he complimented the principal and teachers upon the excellent work which has been done during the year. He also spoke of the appreciation of the citizens of Wilmington of Mr. Bear's gift to the city, and the great good which is being accomplished by reason of the opportunities which it affords.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ORGANIZED AT ATKINSON

Atkinson, N. C., June 4.—In the high school auditorius there was given on Friday night last one of the best plays ever presented at this place, "The Fruit of His Folly." Throughout all the five acts, each of the characters, all from among the young people of the place, showed unusual ability along this line. The play was gotten up under the direction of Mr. J. R. Hawes. It will be given at Point Caswell and Garland later.

The young people of the Atkinson Presbyterian church had with them Sunday, Misses Nellie Durham, and May Wilson and Messrs. John Wells, Bradford Reynolds and George Mitchell, from the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church of Wilmington. These young men presented in a very interesting way the Christian Endeavor work, after which a society of 25 active and nine associate members was formed. This society is to hold its first regular meeting next Sunday. A similar organization was formed by these young people at Currie Sunday afternoon.

SOUVENIR BOOKLET FOR PRESS CONVENTION

Committee Will Solicit Advertising to Help Defray Cost.

The committee of local newspaper men having in charge the preparing of a souvenir booklet for distribution during the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association here the latter part of June, held a meeting at the Rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, at which plans were perfected for issuing an attractive souvenir booklet for the occasion. Besides containing the official programme of the various events of the convention, a part of the booklet will be devoted to a write-up of the city of Wilmington, with numerous cuts.

The committee has decided to visit the leading business men of the city, and solicit a line of select advertising for this booklet, aimed to represent as fully as possible the various business industries and enterprises of the city. It will undoubtedly prove a valuable advertising medium, as a large number will be distributed to the editors and their friends, and will be thus placed in every town and city in North Carolina, and the scale of prices for the advertising space has been set at a very low figure, to simply defray a part of the expense of getting out the souvenir.

The Public Entertainment Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the booklet, and commended it to the business men of the city as "it will be generally distributed throughout North Carolina, and will be an excellent advertising medium, besides being a splendid means of acquainting the editors of the State with Wilmington's advantages."

The committee is composed of Messrs. Jas. H. Cowan, T. M. Pridgen, H. B. Branch, F. E. Little, J. W. Little and D. M. Bain, and they will call on the downtown business men within the next few days.

NEW YARDMASTER HERE.

Mr. M. G. Stokely Succeeds Mr. H. B. Payette on Seaboard Yards.

Mr. M. C. Stokely has been appointed general yard master of the Seaboard Air Line in Wilmington to succeed Mr. H. D. Payette, who has been transferred to Raleigh. The change was effective June 1st. Mr. Stokely has for the past two years been yard clerk here for the Seaboard and is well equipped for his new duties. He has had extensive railroad experience, although still a young man.

His promotion to his new position is a merited recognition of the efficient service that he has rendered.

Meeting of Wharves Committee.

A meeting of the Streets and Wharves Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the general nature of the work before the committee. The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mr. W. B. Thorpe. The other members present were Messrs. J. L. Becton, D. H. Penton and H. B. Peschau. A number of matters were taken up but no definite action was taken on any of them.

The Summer schedules on the suburban lines of the Tidewater Power Co.'s lines go into effect tomorrow.

There are now about 65 cottages at the beach which are occupied. There will be a number of families to move down this week.

Messrs. E. W. Fuller and Jim Grey had splendid luck fishing in the sound yesterday morning. In two hours' time they landed 122 pig fish.

Capt. Wells took a fishing party out yesterday in one of his launches and they had good luck, catching more than 60 fish.

The reservoir at the Seashore Hotel, in which the water used by the hotel is stored, has been raised so as to give more pressure. It has also been repaired and overhauled.

Mr. W. B. Savage is again in charge as life-saver at Lumina this Summer. According to its usual custom the Tidewater Power Company will have a boat crew on duty during bathing hours, in addition to the life guard.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mrs. Peter W. D. Jones will leave Saturday morning for Wrightsville Beach. She will be jonied en route by Mr. Jones, who is spending this week in West Virginia on business."

Rapid progress is being made on the new cottage near the Seashore Hotel, which is being built by Mrs. R. H. Grant, and it will be ready for occupancy within a week or ten days. A number of new cottages have been erected at the beach this season.

Included in the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cameron, Raeford; Messrs. F. L. Nash and A. D. McLean, Lumberton; John C. Brooks, Greenville; Mrs. J. Collins and Miss Amy Collins, Charleston, S. C.; Mr. D. H. Simpson, Charlotte; Mr. R. C. Case, Southern Pines, and Mr. W. C. Sloan, Statesville.

Mr. Claude Elam, who will be the leader of the Seashore orchestra this Summer, with five other skilled musicians, will arrive tonight and will give the first concert at this popular hostelry tomorrow morning. This is Mr. Elam's third season at the Seashore. He is the leader of the orchestra at the Jefferson Hotel, of Richmond, Va.

One of the objects of interest at the beach yesterday was a large muskrat. It was caught by one of the early bathers yesterday morning, and he declares that it was swimming in the salt water when he captured it. He gave chase, and succeeded in yanking it out by the tail. The varmint showed quite a fighting spirit, but was finally subdued.

Everything is in readiness for the opening dance at Lumina tomorrow night. Several improvements have been made to the pavilion, among these being the replacing of the old steps leading to the station, with new ones which are covered with a roof. The refreshment stand has also been improved. A large fountain is to be installed. The open space has been covered over with a roof. A lunch counter has also been installed to be operated in connection with the lower stand, where meals are served at a moderate cost. Mr. W. B. Shuler will be in charge.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

—Messrs. John K. and L. L. McGirt, of Maxton, are spending a few days in the city.

—Mr. C. C. Morris has returned to the city from Chattanooga, Tenn., where he spent several months.

—Mr. J. A. Struthers, a graduate in chemical engineering of the University of North Carolina, has returned to the city.

—Messrs. R. S. Bond and Russell Livermore, of Pates, N. C., spent yesterday and last night in the city on business.

LOCAL DOTS.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Mr. John B. House, of Eastover, S. C., and Miss Mitte Carney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Carney, of Wilmington.

Transferred to Wallace.

Mr. J. H. Riley, who was for several years superintendent of the plant of the Camp Manufacturing Company in this city, has accepted a similar position with the same concern at Wallace. The plant here was recently abandoned and all the business of the corporation is now done at Wallace. Mrs. Riley will join her husband in a few days and they will make their home at that place. They have many friends here, who will regret that they are to leave the city.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Chas. C. Chadbourn and wife to Jno. D. Sidbury and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on north line of Meares, 104 feet south of Third street, 33x100 feet in size; W. A. Dick, trustee, to C. H. UNIQUE CLASS EXERCISES

Enjoyable Entertainment by High School Seniors Last Evening. Commencement Tonight.

Strikingly original and surprisingly unique in its every feature was the entertainment given last evening by the Senior class of the High School in their class day exercises. The production was entitled "The Passing Show of 1914," and the scene was placed in "The Royal Gardens of Tilestonia." This furnished the background for the presentation of the class history, prophecy, poem and other features that go to make up class day exercises.

Tonight the graduation exercises will take place at the Academy of Music, when the commencement address will be made by Hon. Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh, one of the most forceful speakers of the State and a thinker of real ability.

Following the address the diplomas will be presented to the members of the senior class and the school year of the Wilmington graded schools will come formally to a close. The Union school will have its commencement exercises this morning, this being the last of the grammar schools to close. The commencement exercises tonight mark the climax of commencement exercises of the week, which have been held in all the schools of the city. As usual the large auditorium of the Academy of Music will be filled to its utmost capacity with the friends and patrons of the Wilmington schools.

The exercises last evening were given on an improvised stage on the High School campus, west of the High School building. Several hundred chairs had been placed in front of the stage, but these were not near sufficient to provide the large number present with seats and many had to stand.

The night was ideal for such a performance, the sky being clear and a gentle wind bringing refreshing breezes. A new born moon was near the meridian and made the scene one of exceeding beauty.

The play was opened with the singing of a chorus, "Hail the King," when Mr. John Allan Thames as the King, and Miss Mary Giles Bellamy as the Queen appeared upon the stage and were escorted to the gorgeous throne. The remaining members of the class were dressed in the quaint costumes that might have characterized the court of a king of the 16th century. Charles Wagner as the irrepressible jester, added to the gaiety of the scene, if not to that of the nations. The suffragettes were there in their masculine attire, lending an air of modernness to the picture. There were the court beauties in their gay dresses and the ambassadors in their royal robes.

Miss Elizabeth Thames read the class history and Miss Margaret George, the class prophecy. Both papers had been well prepared and were also well read. Miss Athalia Bunting was poet laureate, but she didn't give a poem that smacked of deep learning; it was short instead, and full of rare good humor. Mr. Gray Hicks read the last will and testament of the class and this contained "hits" for all the members of the faculty, with a few extra touches thrown in.

Interspersed between the reading of the class papers were other features that added to the enjoyment of the occasion. There were several songs that were well rendered. The words for these were prepared by Miss Athalia Bunting and the class had had the benefit of the careful training of Mr. Edward Roberts in the music.

A well known citizen of this city, who has traveled extensively, stated last night that he had attended class day exercises in the North, in the West and in other sections of the country and that the entertainment given last evening was the most unique as well as the best of its kind that it had ever been his privilege to witness. He expressed it as his opinion that the members of the class deserve great credit.

At the close of the exercises, Miss Bunting in behalf of the class, presented the class gift, a handsomely mounted sun dial. This was accepted by Superintendent J. J. Blair, who expressed his appreciation of the ingenuity of the class in making a gift that would be of real use to the school. He thought that this was a good omen and that it would prove to be characteristic of the members of the class in their life's work. In conclusion he gave a toast to the class in which he wished them success in their future careers, as well as their full share of happiness.

Joyful Anticipation of Motherhood

There is apt to be a latent apprehension of distress to mar the complete joy of expectation. But this is quite overcome by the advice of so many women to use "Mother's Friend." This is an external application designed to so lubricate the muscles and to thus so relieve the pressure reacting on the nerves, that the natural strain upon the cords and ligaments is not accompanied by those severe pains said to cause nausea, morning sickness and many local distresses. This splendid embrocation is known to a multitude of mothers.

Many people believe that those remedies which have stood the test of time, that have been put to every trial under the varying conditions of age, weight, general health, etc., may be safely relied upon. And judging by the fact that "Mother's Friend" has been in continual use since our grandmother's earlier years and is known throughout the United States it may be easily inferred that it is something that women talk about and gladly recommend to prospective mothers.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared only in our own laboratory and is sold by druggists everywhere. Ask for a bottle to-day and write for a special book for expectant mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 407 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

The Day of Fake Advertising is Passing

As a matter of self-protection, as well as protection of the public, we are downright glad to see the dawn of honest advertising.

The store that has honest merchandise at right prices need not hesitate to tell the truth.

For Example, we never had the least difficulty in advertising Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes for men. They contain so much that is superaltively good that the plain truth about them is the simplest kind of a story.

But after all they tell their own story better than cold type can tell it. If you, Mr. Man, are not familiar with that story and the clothes that tell it, don't you wait another day to hear it.

REDFIELD IN RALEIGH

Secretary of Commerce Addresses Business Men in Capital City on Commercial Conditions of the Country—Many Sections

Raleigh, N. C., June, 4.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in a speech here to-day before the Chamber of Commerce, discussed business conditions throughout the country. In part, he said:

"If we would place the business atmosphere of the country on a sort of commercial weather map such as is used by the Weather Service we should find a curious condition. In the extreme Southeast and Southwest would be areas where the business barometer is high. All through the great central part of the country, where the bulk of our wheat is grown, would be another great area of fair weather and high pressure. Over the great cotton areas of the South would be no depression, not even unsettled conditions, but a normal looking for great agricultural favors expected to come. High barometer also prevails where automobiles are made in and about the Lake area. Over the Northeastern States would be found a section of low barometer and marked depression. If the state of mind of the different parts of our country would be shaded in colors, the great body of the West would be white, while an area of dull gray would represent our Northeastern States.

"One does not mean to deride a depressed state of mind in speaking of it as a psychological condition. The people that feel that way feel just as badly about it as if the condition were physical rather than psychological. The hope lies in the fact that the realities of the physical condition may so assert themselves ere long that the mental state will adjust itself to them and be relieved."

After citing reports of depression in various foreign countries, Mr. Redfield continued:

"Few men would be so bold as to deny the world-wide conditions which have been suggested. This is not an age in which the nations are separated. Their commercial and industrial alliances on the one hand and competitions on the other are close. That which affects one adversely is reflected upon the others. It is the merest childishness to select one of them out from the others and deal with it as if its own internal procedure were the sole cause of the conditions found in it.

"In like manner any argument to the effect that the alleged attitude of our Government toward "Big business" is the cause of such depression as exists here is met by the fact that in Germany, where trusts and cartels are legalized and the Government assists both, the depression is even more severe than it has been here.

"Any world-wide view, therefore, of the great intricate mass of inter-locked transactions which we call "the world's business" finds it in a state of depression almost everywhere, with ocean freights so low because of the shortage of international traffic on the sea that shipowners are beginning to consider whether it is not cheaper to lay their vessels up than to run them at a material loss.

"A good deal has been made of the fact that our foreign business during the month of April shows a decrease in the exports of about 37 millions of dollars and an increase in the imports of about 27 1-2 millions of dollars, and that the merchandise transactions for that month show an apparent balance against us somewhat in excess of 11 millions of dollars, and gleeful conclusions as to the effects of the tariff law are drawn by high-speed thinkers from rather meager data. Looking plainly at the facts we find them to be as follows:

"During April the increase of imports, which we have seen amounted to about 27 1-2 million dollars, is found to be in the following items:

"Crude materials for use in our manufactures, 12 1-2 millions.

"Crude foodstuffs, over 4 millions.

"Partly manufactured foodstuffs, nearly 7 millions.

"Here is an aggregate of 23 1-2 millions out of a total increase of 27 1-2 millions, which is entirely in foods and materials which our manufacturers use. The balance is made up of an increase in finished manufactures of 5 millions, less a decrease in partly finished manufactures of 2 millions, showing a net increase in all imported manufactures of 3 million dollars, or about 5 per cent as compared with the month of April a year ago.

"Turning now to the exports for the month of April, in which there is a decrease of 37 millions for that month, we find 10 millions of it in crude materials for manufactures; 14 millions of it in food stuffs; over 5 millions in partly finished manufactures; making a total of 29 millions.

Eight millions out of 37 millions is in fully finished manufactures, this last item showing the smallest ratio of decrease for the month of any of the great groups named. In other words, it is in line of fully finished manufactures that we have held our proportion of business best.

"On the day when this was written the Secretary of Labor read in the cabinet in my presence a telegram from the labor authorities of Missouri stating that 30,000 men were needed in that State to help harvest the crops. Another telegram from the Labor Commissioner of the State of Kansas calling for 40,000 men for that State for a like purpose was read, and at the previous session he had read a dispatch from the Labor Commissioner of Oklahoma stating that 15,000 men were needed there.

"It is true that a psychogical depression is none the less a depression because it is psychological. We may therefore fairly look into other conditions to see whether the mental state that exists has a justification in solid fact.

"It is true, is it not, as one looks over the country that all the conditions upon which sound business should rest exist in full force and vigor? Few will contend that merchants are overstocked. Rather is the reverse true. None are so rash as to say overspeculation exists. Nay, on the contrary the brokers complain of lack of commissions. Money is not so scarce that banks refuse legitimate borrowers. The reverse is true. We have sent large sums abroad of late without cramping our financial resources. It comes to me from more than one quarter of the country that men who are pessimistic in speech are prosperous in pocket. Things are not tied up tight when New York registers more automobiles than ever before and when that great industry is pushed to the full.

"If you and I get away from the crowded centers of our Middle and Eastern States where mental mourning exists for conditions that can never return since the day of mastery is over and commerce must henceforth be a servant—if, I say, we get away from these centers into which the light is breaking but which it has not yet fully illuminated, we shall find a different atmosphere. From faroff California and from Florida: from the fields of Oklahoma and Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska comes the glad cry of a harvest all but ripe for the sickle. There was no mourning in the orange groves of California when I saw them in March, and Florida utters no cry of distress in sending 23,000 carloads of her fruit to market.

"It is a small and pitiful thing that men should expect to reap political profit out of magnifying evile, so obvious as well as so previous as to be on the whole more humorous than harmful. They make the judicious grieve but they bring no anxiety to the thoughtful."

THEATRICAL

It was a big and powerful array of films the Grand flashed on its big screen yesterday, and today another galaxy of brilliant successes will be offered. The films at the Grand represent not only the latest output, but the best selections of the largest and most noted film concerns in the world.

Heading the list is a powerful two-part Kalem, "The Navajo Blanket," and it has been well proclaimed the most intense and the most gripping Indian story ever written. It is particularly a story of warfare between the Apaches and the Navajoes, and it is most picturesque, as well as thrilling. Art Ortega, the Indian actor, will be seen as the Navajo chieftain, while Mona Darkfeather will appear as his squaw. The famed Indian actors, Big Moon and Eagle Wing, will also be in the cast.

Selig has a semi-society dramatic on the bill that is also a gripper. It is "A Page from Yesterday," the story revolving around a paralytic, his daughter and the man who casts her aside.

Then there is the Vitagraph's biggest laugh film today in "The Chicken Inspector." A rube goes to New York, gets a badge as an inspector of chickens and comes back to his village and goes to work. It's a scream, and in the role of the inspector the well known comedian, Cutey, is the biggest kind of a swell hit.

Big Day at the Bijou.

'Tis seldom, these days, that the popular photoplay house has anything less than a two-reel feature to head their daily bill, and the rule is two and three reel subjects every day. Today is no exception to this rule, and the management has procured to head the programme the brand new Rex two-reel dramatic masterpiece, "The Fox," in which is featured in the very best work of their careers, such screen favorites as Lloyd Ingraham, Robert Leonard, Al Forrest, Hazel Buckham and Harry Carter. All these bright stars of the movies have excelled themselves in this production, which is a true to life story of life on the frontier of civilization, where life is seen against a natural background instead of the exile from nature in the grimness and grayness of the cities. This is a story of the early days laid in the great forests of the Canadian Northwest, where the natives' very livelihood depends upon a good right arm and ability to act and think quickly.

A big Frontier comedy, "Johnnie from Jonesboro," will come next on the programme, in which Lloyd Hamilton, the leading man in the above play, will be seen in one of his big comedy roles, supported by an able cast of players, including Misses Mai Wells and May Cruze.

Then comes a delightful Princess drama in a single reel, "Beautiful Snow," which will be found appealing to everyone, telling a very pretty and clean story that will leave you with a good taste in your mouth.

Came 700 Miles to Recover The Colt

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCHMAN SELLS WIFE'S PET—TRIP TO NORTH CAROLINA MADE NECESSARY.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Kinston, N. C., June 3.—A Pennsylvania Dutchman named Ober is now en route home from here on horseback, after more trouble than he ever had before in his life, probably. Ober was the owner of a colt which was his wife's pet. He sold the colt, and since has known no peace, he avows. Finally he instituted search for the animal, and located it 700 miles away, in Greene county, N. C. Thomas Moseley was the possessor of the colt by the time Ober located it. The Dutchman came south and bartered with Moseley, finally making a trade.

Ober is taking his wife's pet back to her and at the same time saving railroad expenses, for he declares his losses incident to the misstep have been heavy enough. They included the expenses of the trip to Greene county and the difference in the price for which he sold the horse and that which he paid to rebuy it, for the colt is now a handsome horse. Moseley charged Ober $115 in excess of the sum for which the latter sold it. Ober hereafter will consult with his wife in matters of the kind. He expects to arrive home about June 15.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samose Will Make People Fat—"Money Back if It Fails," Says J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh-forming food like Samose is absolutely necessary to many people.

This remarkable discovery comes in tablet form and when taken after meals mingles with the food and helps it to assimilate so that it makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

The J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. has so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that they are willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit 50c with them and take home a box of Samose with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good firm flesh the money will be returned without any questions.

Take advantage of this offer. The risk is all theirs and you have almost the certainty of a pleasing gain in plumpness.

Gossip From Washington

SENATOR JOSEPH L. BRISTOW of Kansas smiled when the conversation in a Washington club turned to actors and the stage. He said he was reminded of the candid admission of Michael Strogoff. One night "Michael Strogoff" was committed in a western town, and the man who played the title role had yet a long distance to go on the road to fame. As the play progressed Michael was captured, and the usual dialogue began.

"Your name?" imperiously demanded the officer who had effected the capture.

"Michael Strogoff," impressively answered the hero.

"Your occupation?" continued the questioning party.

"I am an officer in the imperial army," was the prompt rejoinder.

"Your rank?" haughtily pursued the questioner.

"I know it," said Michael, almost sighfully.

During Cleveland's first administration his private secretary, Dan Lamont, had the reputation of being closer to the president than any other man. George B. Cortelyou was known to be one of the closest personal and political friends that Theodore Roosevelt ever had. But neither of these famous secretaries to presidents, however, had closer relations with their chiefs than does Joseph Patrick Tumulty with the present occupant of the White House. Tumulty is the head of what is known as "the unofficial cabinet," which corresponds to the "tennis cabinet" of Roosevelt's administration, and is composed of men to whom the president turns for advice on questions of policy and politics.

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY.

Secretary of State Bryan believes a man and his wife should divide their joys, "for then," says he, "they multiply." In this connection he relates the following anecdote:

"One night a man went home from a function quite late. When he reached the front door his wife upbraided him severely.

"'Well, you see, my dear,' he replied, 'as I didn't have you with me I enjoyed myself only half as much, and therefore I had to stay twice as long.'"

Senator Thomas Sterling of South Dakota, a brother of former Representative John A. Sterling of Bloomington, Ill., has established a reputation in the senate as a deep and careful thinker, a senator of force and a modest man. In explaining his modesty recently Senator Sterling said he had had humility inculcated into him from childhood.

SENATOR STERLING.

"Why, when I was a baby," said the senator, "the house caught fire one day, and my mother rushed into the building looking for the most valuable thing she could save. She came into the room where I lay in my cradle, picked up a basket of chips and safely deposited it in the front yard. When my mother told me about the incident in my later years it made an impression on me, and I have never been able to forget that 'pride goeth before a fall.'"

Champ Clark, discussing the Panama canal tolls at a luncheon, said:

"My opponent's argument on this point seems to me as absurd as the argument of Washington White.

"As Wash sat on his stoop one morning round election time the Republican candidate for mayor stopped, sounded him a little and finally gave him $1 to vote the Republican ticket.

"A little while afterward the Democratic candidate came along and gave Wash $2 to vote the Democratic ticket.

"Then just before dinner time the Progressive candidate turned up and gave Wash $3 to support the Progressive cause.

"'Well, which one of 'em is you goin' to vote fur?' asked Mrs. Wash as she smiled upon the heap of silver which her husband had earned that morning on the front stoop.

"'I think I'll vote for the fust feller,' said Wash, 'the one what gumme the dollar.'

"'Why,' cried his wife, astonished—'why vote for him?'

"'Because,' Wash answered, 'because he is the least corrupt.'"

FASHION'S FADS.

Dressing sacks are shirred at the waist line as they used to be.

Many of the new flouncings are of tinted crape with white flowers.

Mother-of-pearl buttons are fashioned in the ball and olive shapes.

Little boys' blouses are made of almost any fabric from chambray to silk.

Taffeta skirts—plain, moire and brocaded—promise to lead for summer.

Elastic tapes are used to keep draperies in place in the new fashions.

Pretty buttons are of imitation stone decorated with gilt or Chinese characters.

Most sashes have their ends weighted with heavy ornaments or tassels.

Jeweled or fancy pins are almost indispensable to the present daytime coiffure.

Dancing frock is a word applied as often to afternoon dresses as to evening.

Keeping Floors Nice.

If your floor needs attention, first sweep with a brush, dust with a dustless mop and wipe the boards with a clean wet woolen house cloth. Then mix equal parts of shellac varnish with any desired color of paint or stain; thin it to the proper consistency with denatured alcohol. With a large brush apply carefully a good coat; in two hours apply a second.

This will be quite hard in three hours, but the best way is to use it in the early evening. Apply the second coat two hours later and by morning it will be dry and in prime condition.

This is an excellent way to do old white pine stairs when one does not wish to use carpet. A dustless mop is all that need be used on the floors, and a dustless duster, with or without a handle, for the stairs.

TRIM MILLINERY.

Two distinctly opposite types of hat are those illustrated here. One is of the high crowned variety, with its real height supplemented by erect bows of velvet ribbon. This model is of picot straw and has the customary side trimming carried out in velvet ribbon, on which a single rose is mounted.

The other hat is of the flat round type, the brim tilted a very little at the side and faced with satin ribbon slightly gathered. A shirred frill of ribbon stands erect around the inside of the brim. It is wired to keep it in shape. A knot of artificial buds nestles in the front of the frill.

EFFECT OF VEGETABLES ON VARIOUS DISEASES

Professor Mosse of Toulouse prescribes potatoes for diabetes. He makes the astonishing recommendation of from three to four pounds of Irish potatoes daily. It is the potassium salts in the potato which are of special value. Potato bread is advised, made by mixing two pounds of baked potatoes with one-third as much flour, a little butter and salt and a small quantity of yeast. Allow the mixture to raise one hour, separate into rolls and bake. This helps to reduce the sugar in the system, diminishes the thirst and aids in the cure.

Professor Mongour of Bordeaux has lately used onions in curing dropsy, administering them boiled, fried or in any other way. Dr. Dalche of Paris uses onions with great success in cases of impoverished blood, skin diseases and in diphtheria. He has found them excellent in their action upon the kidneys.

Carrots are invaluable if properly cooked, but they should be steamed, not boiled, or their valuable salts are dissolved. They contain pectine, salts, pectates and potassium sulphates, as well as sugar and cellulose. It has been scientifically demonstrated that by their ferments and pectic substances carrots fluidify the salts in the system. For this reason it is well to have carrots accompany meats, which have a tendency to harden in the intestines.

Spinach is highly recommended on account of the large amount of soluble iron in it, and for this reason it is excellent for anaemic persons. It is not to be recommended to those suffering with liver troubles. Others may eat it either plain or with bouillon or creamed.

Tomatoes have for some time been taken away from rheumatic persons on the ground of acidity, but, it is claimed, without real reason. Dr. Albakang declares that the gelatinous matter in them, known chemically as pectine, alters everything with which it comes into contact into azotates of potash and is especially valuable in furnishing the hyperchlorides required by an acid stomach. Professor Armand Gautier recommends tomatoes for alkalinizing the blood and the acid humors of rheumatic patients.

Pique Neckwear.

The new trend in better grade neckwear lines is strongly toward unstarched pique novelties, says the Dry Goods Economist. These are shown in great variety, variously shaped, in flat, in rolling and to a lesser degree in high wired forms.

Pique waistcoats are shown with cuffs to match, as are also collar and cuff sets in pique. The most effective of these styles are trimmed with pearl buttons about the size of a quarter. The new cuffs are cut with a deep flaring point at one end.

Many manufacturers are working on linen effects in the new demi tailored form. Some of the smartest types suggest the wing collar worn by men and are finished with batwing ties. They are variously finished with flat vestee effects. Frequently the top part of the collar is in the heavier linen, while the vestee is developed in soft tucked batiste or organdy.

Keeping Out Rain.

Keep on hand a piece of white oilcloth, a little wider than the window and about as long as it is broad, for rainy nights when the rain beats in if the window is up ever so little. First fasten the oilcloth with a couple of fine sharp thumb tacks to the window sill, letting the oilcloth hang out an inch over the sill; then the sides are lifted up and fastened with a thumb tack to the window frames at the sides. It is important to allow a slight bag in the middle for the rain to run out by.

Smart Stitching.

Some of the newest white and tan doeskin gloves show three rows of black or dark brown stitching on the back. This dark stitching adds a smart feature to the gloves.

PARSLEY BUTTER.

Pare thinly the rind of one lemon, and chip it into slivers. Squeeze out the juice and mince the pulp. Chop a large spray of parsley into bits. Rub two level tablespoonfuls of butter with the same quantity of flour in a white stewpan. Stir over the fire, cooking until it bubbles, but not allowing it to color. Add the minced lemon, juice, peel and a cupful of water. Season with a trifle of mace. Stir until it thickens; then take from the fire and add the parsley with the beaten yolks of two eggs. Cook two minutes and serve.

Little Pitchers.

"Pa, did you eat any of the cook's dough?"

"Of course not, my child. What makes you ask that?"

"Because I heard ma say she was going to make you cough it up."

She—Why do fishermen have to be so quiet? He—So the fish will bite. She—Oh, I see. You fish with bated breath.—Baltimore American.

JOINING LACE.

Uniting the Pieces So That Overlapping Lines Do Not Show.

Lace is now so popular that it may be convenient to know how to join lace so that the joining will not be visible. Place one end over the other so that the mesh and pattern will exactly correspond and then with a fine sewing thread overhand together, sewing over the threads of the mesh and around the pattern in a diagonal line.

After the lace is joined the rough edges (one on the upper and the other on the underside) are cut close to the diagonal stitching. After the lace is pressed this joining cannot be detected.

Corners of lace can be mitered in the same way and the yoke or collar made to look as though it had been woven in one piece. Fold the lace to form the corners, then cut the lace through the center almost to the edge and lap one side over the other; then join by overhanding through the mesh and pattern.

Gold and silver lace for yokes can be joined in this way, using a gold or silver thread to overcast the lace together.

An Old Favorite

I Wandered Lonely as a Cloud

I WANDERED lonely as a cloud
That floats on high o'er vales and hills,
When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host of golden daffodils,
Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
Fluttering and dancing in the breeze.

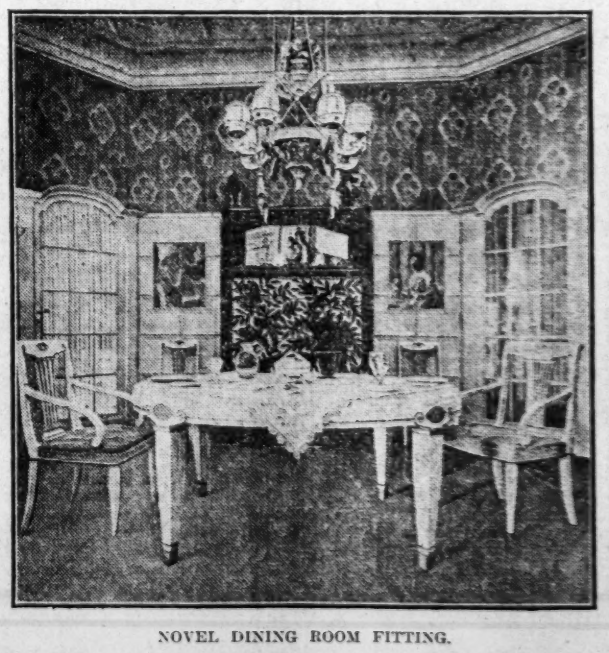
Continuous as the stars that shine
And twinkle on the Milky Way,
They stretch in never ending line
Along the margin of a bay.
Ten thousand saw I at a glance
Tossing their heads in sprightly dance.

The waves beside them dance, but they
Outdid the sparkling waves in glee.
A poet could not but be gay
In such a jocund company.
I gazed and gazed, but little thought
What wealth the show to me had brought.

For oft when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude,
And then my heart with pleasure fills
And dances with the daffodils.

—William Wordsworth.

The New Art Sanctions Interior Decorations In Black and White



NOVEL DINING ROOM FITTING.

THE new French school of art is responsible for the style of the dining room illustrated here. It is carried out in black and white. The figured wall paper, however, is in subdued tones of gray and white. The sideboard is in black and white, while the furniture is finished in white enamel touched up with black.

Today's Short Story

How Riches Came

I AM an artist, and, though a woman, have never feared to sketch in lonely places. One spring morning I was in the country seated before my easel laying on the first light tints of spring green when a young man, a few years my senior, emerged from a wood near by and came toward me. He was dressed in a crossbar suit, a straw hat with a blue ribbon and tan shoes.

He first made a few pleasant remarks about what I had done, then began to talk about pictures in general, artists, schools, values—in short, such matters as are usually known only to artists. I asked him if he were of the profession, and he replied that he was not, nor had he ever touched a brush.

"Then will you kindly tell me what you are?"

He smiled and replied:

"I am a pauper aristocrat. How would you like to make a sketch of me?" he said abruptly.

I sketched for half an hour, then let him change his position for rest.

"Can you give me another sitting tomorrow?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," he replied; "my time is not valuable."

He gave me several sittings on different mornings, then one morning when he had promised to come failed to do so. This was the last of him. The portrait was unfinished, though nearly complete, and I left it as it was.

When I returned to the city late in the autumn I had not forgotten my pauper aristocrat.

He had without leave walked right into my heart and made himself at home.

One day during the winter while scanning a newspaper I came upon a personal:

Information wanted of Reginald Wallace Chandler, who was last seen near Liberty, Sullivan county, N. Y., during the previous spring. He then wore a crossbar suit, a straw hat with a blue band and tan shoes.

My heart stood still. This was my pauper aristocrat. For what could he be wanted? Was it for crime, for return to confinement? I thought over every possible contingency, dreading to give information of him for fear of injuring him. At last I took the picture I had made of him, and going to the address given in the advertisement, told of my meeting with him. I was informed that his uncle, worth many millions, had gone down with his whole family in a terrible marine disaster that had occurred during the past summer and Reginald Wallace Chandler was sole heir at law to the property.

Since I could give no information of him a number of photographs were made of my picture and sent to detective bureaus in different cities. The picture itself was placed in a window on Fifth avenue in New York, and the dealer directed to send any one making inquiries about it to me. One day I was told that a young man desired to see me in the drawing room. I went there and found my pauper aristocrat.

"Pardon me," he said, "for coming here, and for leaving you so unceremoniously. I felt that I was drifting where I had no right to drift. When I saw that picture in the window yesterday and knew that by it I could find you I tried to resist the temptation. All the acts of my life have been failures. How could they be otherwise?"

"Reginald Wallace Chandler," I said, "you are a millionaire."

This is how I, an artist, became rich without talent.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Wrap cut bread in waxed paper if you would keep it fresh.

Try scrambling eggs with minced green peppers for a change.

Carrots and spinach are among the best of tonics in the summer.

Dry lamp chimneys on the back of the stove.

The smoke from burning sugar is one of the very best disinfectants.

Discarded inner auto tires can be cut up into the best of rubber bands.

Fly specks and dirt on mirror surfaces may be rubbed off with a cream made of whiting and alcohol.

When the strainer on the kitchen faucet refuses to work well try a vinegar bath. The deposit from the water has clogged the tiny openings, and no amount of brushing will clear them so well as an overnight soaking in a cupful of vinegar.

Fighting Moths.

When storing clothing for the summer sprinkle white cloves among the articles instead of the mothballs. This will keep the moths away, and the odor is far from disagreeable.

An excellent way to kill moths in a carpet is to wring a coarse crash towel out of water and spread it smoothly on the carpet. Iron it dry with a good hot iron, repeating the operation on all parts of the carpet infested with the moths.

There is no need to press hard, and neither the pile nor the color of the carpet will be injured, and the moths will be destroyed by the heat and steam.

Porch Pillows.

If you are bothered with ants in your ice chest you can get rid of them in this manner: Pull the chest away from the wall and stand the four legs in pans filled with cucumber seeds to which a little water has been added. This is a safe way to prevent them from entering the ice chest.

Regamuende.

A city at the bottom of the sea was seen toward the end of October, 1888, near Treptow, in Prussia, when a powerful south wind blew the waters of the Baltic away from the shore, uncovering a part of the sand usually hidden by the waves.

It was the ruins of the city of Regamuende, once a flourishing commercial station, which was swallowed by the sea five centuries ago. The unusual sight was visible for only five hours, when the storm slackened, and the waves returned to cover up the place which had once been the home of human beings.

A Dreadful Scare.

Little Miss Flitterby, aged about two,
Went with her mother one day to the zoo,
And, thinking to scare
The big grizzly bear,
She pointed a finger at him and cried,
"Boo!"

Boy Scouts In Rome.

Companies of boy scouts were recently organized in Rome by Captain Maggiani of the army and were taken to the Goffredo Mameli barracks, where Admiral Bettolo, former minister of marine, received their oath. The text of the oath is the following:

"I swear on my honor to love my country and follow her in any circumstances, to abide by her laws, to help my fellows without discrimination in any danger or need and to obey the decalogue of the boy scouts."

A Riddle.

What is the difference between a gardener, a billiard marker, a gentleman and a sexton?

A gardener minds his peas.
A billiard marker minds his cues.
A gentleman minds his p's and q's.
A sexton minds his keys and pews.

Simple Arithmetical Problem.

A colored boy plus a chicken equals a lively foot race when the farmer happens along.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

COTTON WAS LESS ACTIVE

Market Showed More or Less Irregularity With New Crop Position Relatively Easy.

New York, June 4.—The cotton market was less active today and showed more or less irregularity with new crop positions relatively easy as a result of improving weather conditions in the South and realizing. The close was steady at a net advance of 1 to 6 points on the old crop, but from 6 to 7 points net lower on new crop deliveries.

There was quite a good deal of cotton for sale during the earlier trading. The late break of yesterday attracted some overnight selling orders, while Liverpool made an indifferent showing and the early weather map encouraged talk of probable crop improvement. The market opened barely steady at a decline of 1 to 7 points, and after some irregularity sold about 7 to 11 points under the closing figures of yesterday.

The official forecast for clear weather west of the river and unsettled conditions with showers in the Eastern belt probably promoted some selling for a reaction, as well as scattering liquidation and a few stop orders were uncovered. The selling of this sort was light enough to suggest that the scattering long interest had been pretty well liquidated earlier in the week, however, and the market steadied up on covering.

Old crop positions led the rally, selling some 10 points above last night's close during the afternoon on reports of a better spot demand in the South and spot house buying. The more favorable character of the detailed weather reports held the new crop back, but these deliveries recovered to within a point or two of yesterday's final figures.

At the advance there was some renewed realizing and later fluctuations were irregular, with the close showing reactions of several points from the best.

Cotton futures closed steady.

WHITEVILLE HOST TO VETERANS OF COLUMBUS

Attorney General T. W. Bickett Orator of The Day.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Whiteville N. C., June 3.—Whiteville today is host to the remaining members of the rank and file that fought for the cause in the fierce and terrible struggles of 61-65. There are numbers of the wearers of the Gray present today at the annual re-union of Confederate veterans, the occassion having been for a number years observed on June 3rd, that date being the anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy.

The Jefferson Davis Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, have excelled all past records for entertaining the "vets" and the annual event to which they look forward as a unit has been highly successful in so far as a re-assemblage of these notable and beloved personages are concerned. A basket dinner, like unto the kind Whiteville people alone can prepare, was served in the Auditorium.

The speaker for the occasion was Hon. T. W. Bickett, Attorney General of North Carolina, who was introduced in a short and well timed address by Mayor Irvin B. Tucker.

Mr. Bickett paid tribute to the survivors of the War between the States; to those who have passed from earth into the Great Beyond; to those remaining to bear witness to a rejuvenated Southland, and to the ladies who have spared neither pains nor means to make these re-unions a day of incomparable pleasure to the Confederates who have been able to attend. Each year, though, shows a telling decrease in the ranks of the veterans but those who are left to relate the hardships of the four years leave no stone unturned to be present on this day.

Leicester, Eng., June 2.—An attempt was made by a suffragist arson squad to burn a mansion near Market Harborough today. Fire under a staircase on which inflammable materials had been piled was extinguished with little damage.

WHEAT MARKET BEARISH

Prospects for Bumper Crops in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma Helped Turn Market.

Chicago, June 4.—Extraordinary promise of a bumper crop in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma today helped turn speculators to the bear side in wheat. Closing prices were steady, but 3-4 to 1 1-8c under last night. Corn showed a net decline of 3-8 to 1c, and oats of 3-8 to 1-2c. In provisions the outcome varied from 2 1-2c off to a like advance.

Grain and provisions closed:

Wheat—July, 86⅝; September, 85⅛.

Corn—July, 69⅝; September, 66⅞.

Oats—July, 39⅛; September, 37⅞.

COTTON GOODS MARKET.

New York, June 4.—Cotton goods markets were firm today, with prices showing an upward tendency in gray cloths. Wash goods were in demand for immediate shipment. Dress goods were in moderate request. Yarns were quiet.

STOCK SPECULATION SUFFERED

Lack of Stimulus in Market and Session Was Very Dull—Fluctuations Irregular.

New York, Sept. 4.—Speculation suffered today from lack of stimulus and the stock market was a dull affair. Fluctuations were irregular and generally narrow. Nevertheless, there was a good undertone and a degree of improvement eventually was achieved.

During the early session the market was held back by weakness of New Haven and Lehigh Valley, but before noon the whole list picked up. Various specialties and seasoned dividend paying issues, including Canadian Pacific, New York, Delaware & Hudson, Can, Harvester and beet sugar were prominent in the rise.

American stocks made a good showing in London buying amounting to perhaps 10,000 shares.

Bonds did not share fully in the improvement shown in stocks, as some issues exhibited reactionary tendencies. Total sales $1,892,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

LATEST FASHIONS IMMODEST BUT EXTREMELY COMFORTABLE.

President of General Federation of Women's Clubs Has Her Say.

Chicago, June 3.—That woman suffrage still is an open question and women's fashions at present are immodest, but comfortable, were statements here today by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, of Austin, Texas, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Pennybacker arrived yesterday to prepare for the biennial convention of the Federation, which opens here June 9th.

"As to woman suffrage," she said, "that remains an open question.

"Personally I approve of it because I think the highest type of women is interested in politics and everything that is vital in life.

"Aside from the extreme low neck and the slavish following of Parisian sayles, which are to be condemned, I think the present fashions are enjoyable," said Mrs. Pennybacker. "The freedom which women have now about the chest and waist, which allows of deep breathing and comfort, is to be praised."

Suffrage and fashions probably will be two of the most interesting topics before the Federation, Mrs. Pennybacker said.

FULL HEALTH BUDGET PASSED BY COUNCIL

health work should continue, unhampered, and, as the representative of the citizens committee, and through that body the citizens of Wilmington, he would ask the Council to pass the health budget as approved by the Board of Health.

Declaring that he had been pledged to secrecy in the matter, Mr. Merrittturned to Drs. Bolles and Crammer and asked them to read some regulations in their possession," and put this Council in the right light."

Dr. Bolles, in reply, before reading the regulations, said that Council had not acted upon anything contained in the regulations in cutting down the budget, for he had not informed Mr. Merritt of them until after the action had been taken. He further said that the Board of Health, in considering the matter, had already put some of the regulations into effect some time ago, and that the others would be put into effect probably at the next meeting. He then read the regulations, which are as follows:

The regulations read by Dr. Bolles, following the dramatic request of Mr. Merritt, are as follows:

The Regulations.

"The New Hanover Board of Health recommends the following regulations in regard to the health work of the city and county:

"1. That the office of the Health Department be kept open daily from 7 A. M. to 6 P. M., including Sundays and holidays—the Sunday and holiday work to be proportioned among the employes of the department by the Superintendent of Health.

"2. That the Superintendent of Health and his immediate staff report at office daily at 9 A. M. and remain on duty until 6 P. M., with an intermission of one and one-half hours for lunch.

"3. That the chief of the sanitary police and his men report daily at office at 7 A. M. and remain on duty until 6 P. M., with an hour and a half interim for lunch.

"4. That the Superintendent of Health devote less of his individual time to routine office work and spend more time in getting into touch with the public generally by giving them the benefit of his practical knowledge in lectures, conferences or in any way in which he can further the active health work of the city and county.

"5. That the work of the sanitary police be done regularly, systematically and thoroughly each day and that a report of their work be made weekly to the chairman of the Board of Health with a duplicate copy to be put on file in office for permanent record.

"6. That in their daily route the sanitary police make a point of giving practical suggestions as to the best method for ridding the city and county of flies, mosquitoes and other pests, emphasizing everywhere the importance of sanitary privies, being ready to give assistance in the active construction of said privies.

"7. That the chief of the sanitary police be required to satisfy himself, and make report of it weekly, that his subordinates are daily covering territory assigned to them.

"8. That a tour of inspection be made regularly once a month jointly by the Superintendent of Health and chief of sanitary police in both city and county in order that they may keep in close touch with the work of this department.

"9. That the Assistant Superintendent be ready at all times to do his part in the work of the department by relieving the superintendent of much routine and in giving more of his time to the office in relieving the superintendent.

"10. That less publicity be given to the work of the Health Department in unnecessary newspaper articles, remembering that in all work of this sort results speak for themselves. That in future before any newspaper articles are published they be submitted to the chairman of the Board of Health for approval.

"11. That the medical members of the Health Department do no professional work outside of their official capacity and that the county automobile be kept strictly for the health work of the department.

"12. That approximately a sum of $300 be appropriated for the purchase of a microscope, incubator and other necessary laboratory supplies, and that a portion of the time of one of the medical staff be given to the examination of sputo for 'TB", of throat swabs for diphtheria, etc., and of other specimens if necessary for the prevention of a transmissable disease."

These regulations, said Dr. Bolles, had not been adopted because the work of the helth department was not being done satisfactorily, but because the health board wanted to systematize the work in the office, and to keep a proper record of all work accomplished and results obtained.

Chairman Willard stated that the regulation as to the sanitary police reporting at the office at 7 o'clock had been in effect since last December, and previous to that time the officers went to work at 7, though they did not report to the office, but went out directly on their routes. He said that some criticism had been made of the fact that Dr. Thames, the assistant health officer, had used the automobile provided for his use in carrying out his work, to go to and from Wrightsboro on Sundays, where he taught a Sunday School class, and that since that criticism had been made he had not used it for that purpose. Councilman Jones observed that it was mighty small in a person to criticise a thing like that.

Dr. Bolles declared that though the members of the Board of Health did not claim that the health department was 100 per cent efficient, he did think that we have best health organization in the Southern States.

Mr. Merritt observed that it was probably the most expensive, but Dr. Crammer pointed out that Augusta, Ga., is spending considerably more than is spent here, and that Agusta's appropriation is for the city only, while the health work here is for the city and county both.

Chairman Taylor, refering to Mr. Merritt's statement that he had been pledged to secrecy, said that he saw nothing in the regulations that would require any secrecy, and that furthermore he saw nothing in them to sustain the action of Council in reducing the budget. Mr. Williard said that no pledges of secrecy had emanated from the Board of Health. Mr. Merritt said that Drs. Bolles and Crammer had asked him not to mention the matter.

Mr. Merritt cited the fact that many complaints had been made with reference to the work of the plumbing inspector in the health department, and also referred to the fact that during the months of June, July and August of last year the Health Department had conducted the scavenging work and had collected for the service about $1,800. As Council paid for four-fifths of the cost of the work, they ought to be entitled to their prorata part of the receipts for this work, but he said that though several letters had been written to the health board with reference to the matter, no reply had been recived. He mentioned these instances as supporting his opinion that the money appropriated for the health department was not being spent judiciously.

Mr. Wilbur Dosher, a well known plumber of the city, was asked for his opinion on the work of the health department's inspector, and in reply he said that he was a splendidly equipped man from the theoretical standpoint. Poor plumbing regulations, rather than any incompetence on the part of the plumbing inspector, he held responsible for complaints of the character referred to.

W. P. M. Turner, Esq., made a statement declaring that he thought all items contained in the budget of the health board should be granted, with the exception of $1,000 asked for a sanitary engineer. He thought the city engineer could do this work. He also thought that the health department might better serve the indigent patients of the city and county.

Dr. Nesbitt, the county health officer, who was present, said in reply that all applications for free treatment were carefully investigated and the treatment was furnished wherever the conditions demanded it. Misapplied benevolence, he said only one effect, that of creating pauperism.

Mr. Merritt asked Dr. Bolles and Crammer if the subject of recommending a reduction in the number of sanitary policement in the employ of the health department and of cutting the health officers down to one instead of two, had not been considered at a recent meeting of the New Hanover Medical Society, of which he understood that Dr. Crammer was the secretary.

Dr. Crammer replied that he was not secretary of the Society, but both he and Dr. Bolles were empatic in denying that such a matter had ever been considered at a meeting of the Society. Mr. Merrit stated that the information on which he based his question had been handed to him by someone—he did not know who—only a few minutes before on an unsigned slip of paper.

Councilman Jones said he thought the matter might as well be voted on. He observed that there were only two objections he could make to the resolution adopted at the meeting of the citizens committee. One that it provided that Council have only one representative on the investigation committee, in spite of the fact that Council paid four-fifths of the money appropriated for the use of the health department, and the other that it placed upon members of Council the responsibility of making charges against the Board of Health. He thought complaints would be a better word.

After some further discussion Councilman Merritt offered the resolution providing that the budget as approved by the board of health be passed. The vote was taken, and the resolution adopted unanimously, whereupon Councilman Jones offered the resolution providing that an investigation be made as outlined in the resolution of the citizens committee. This was also adopted.

Mr. Merritt made a statement thanking the members of the citizens commitee for their courtesy in the controversy, only one instance of discourtesy having come to his attention. He had no desire to do one thing that would hamper the health work here, and his opposition to the full budget had been based on his belief that the money was being expended properly. This belief, he said, stil obtained, and he thought an investigation would prove him right.

Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur, a member of the citizens committee, said that Mr. Merritt's reference to discourtesy probably were based on some remarks by him as qouted in the papers. While not denying that he had made some "rather lurid" statements at the meetig of the committee Wednesday, he said that the reports had placed him in a false position in not quoting his other statements. He had ment no discourtecy to any members of Council, he said, and his remarks at the time referred to were only called forth by a spirit of deep earnestness, and not by any desire to be discourteous.

Meeting of Committee.

The meeting of the Citizens Committee yesterday at noon was marked by a prolonged discussion as to whether or not it would be wise to acept Council's proposal of an investigation. Several of the members were opposed to any investigation on the ground that such action would necessarily carry with it some inference of incompetency or inefficiency.

Chairman Taylor and others, however, stood out for the investigation if Council desired one, provided however that the full budget be appropriated first. It was declared that the health department would welcome an impartial investigation, and had nothing whatever to conceal from the public.

A resolution offered by Mr. J. G. McCormick and amended at the suggestions of several other members, was finally adopted, agreeing to an investigation provided the budget be appropriated, with the further provisoin that Council prefer written charges of inefficiency against the health department as a basis for the investigation.

The resolution provides that the commitee making the investigation be composed of three members, one to be appointed by the Council, one by the citizens committee and the third at the request of the County Commissioners to be detailed by the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health service. Mr. J. Allan Taylor was named at the representative of the citizens committee, several of the members paying him pretty tributes in suggestion him for the duty.

The Resolution is as follows:

The Resolution.

"Whereas it appears that the proposal submitted to the Citizen Committee on yesterday by the City Council may have been misunderstood, and whereas it is earnest desire of this Committee to do full justice to the Council and all other parties, and it is the further desire of this Committee to assist in bringing the several departments of the City and County connected with the health into effective harmonious relations so that they and each of them may best subserve the welfare of the entire community. Be it, Resolved.

(1) That we do not consider that we have anything to submit to an arbitration; that we are unwiling to agree to any proposal which will in any way tend to impair or in the slightest measure abridge the work of the Health Department as now conducted, and while we consider the work of this Department as satisfactory and worthy of our full confidence, we nevertheless feel that those whom it is claimed by certain of the City Council have made charges against the Health Department should be given a full opportunity to come out from under cover and present them.

(2) Be it therefore Resolved—

That a Committee of three—one to be selected by the City Council; one to be Mr. Allan Taylor, as the representative of the Citizen's Cimmittee, and the third upon request of the Board of County Commissioners to be detailed by the Surgeon General of the United States Health Service as the third member, to make full investigation of the Health Department, its methods, expenditures, results of is administration and all other matters connected therewith which should properly come before said Committee as a part of a thorough and accurate investigation, provided, however, that the budget as heretofore proposed and presented to the City Council be immediately approved by it and the work of the Health Department be allowed to continue without interruption, pending the report of said Committee, which report when completed shall be submitted to the citizens in mass meeting assembled for consideration and approval. Provided that the Council will furnish to the committee written charges as a basis of the investigation.

and to market their products to the best advantage.

"We urge our representatives in Congress to uphold the President in his plans to aid our farmers in the matter of rural credits.

"We recommend the encouragement of studies in practical agriculture in our free schools.

"We recommend the enactment of effective legislation designed to control our natural resources, especially our forests and fisheries, and our wild game, and that such legislation be so far as possible State-wide.

"We urge the building of good roads throughout the State, and congratulate the people on the splendid progress being made in the improvement of the conditions in country life.

"We demand every possible safeguard for the health of the people of the State, and that the government of this State shall, at all times be responsive to the needs of the people."

Minority Report Submitted.

When the report on platform was completed, A. J. McKinnon, of the committee, was recognized and submitted a minority report for himself and A. L. Brooks that declared for a legalized primary of all parties, for all offices, including county offices. A lengthy preamble declared that the Democratic party should either go back to the delegate system or give the people an honest primary election law for all offices, National, State and county.

Mr. McKinnon yielded to Mr. Brooks who declared that he did not come to the progressive convention. If there was anything wrong with the party he wanted to come to a Democratic convention to fight it out. If it is a good thing to have primaries for United States Senators, why is it not a good thing to have them for legislative officers? He believed such action would build up the Democratic party and help to destroy the Republican party. If we have a primary, let us have it in truth and in fact.

Cameron Morrison spoke in opposition, insisting that the western counties that do not want county primaries and believe they will hurt their Democratic chances should not have such primaries forced upon them.

R. H. Hayes urged the adoption of the majority report, as did C. O. McMichael.

Hon. J. D. Bellamy declared he was glad there has been as much progress as there has and wanted a drastic primary law. He didn't care so much about its applying to the county offices.

Majority Report Adopted.

W. A. Erwin apealed that the convention follow Democratic principles and adopt the majority report. The vote by roll call was finally reached and the vote was 268 for, 572 against, the minority report.

There quickly followed a motion to adopt the majority report as a whole. This was done without opposition and the convention adjourned.

WILL ELECT TEACHERS.

Committees Will Select Teachers for City Schools This Week.

Chairman J. O. Carr, of the county Board of Education, stated yesterday that the school committeemen of the city had been requested to proceed with the election of teachers for the city graded schools and it is expected that the elections will take place this week. Some doubt had been expressed as to the advisability of electing teachers in view of the fact that there are to be a number of changes made in the schools of the city.

Mr. Carr stated that the teachers would be elected with the understanding that they will be liable to be transferred to any of the schools of the city. They are requested, however, to specify in their applications which school they prefer.

Vudor Porch Shades

Summer Pleasures without Summer Discomforts! Indoors it's sticky and moist. On the porch it's cool—when the Vudors are down.

Why not eat, sleep, live there this summer? Thousands do it. The cool air gives appetite and forces you to dreamless sleep because it bathes the nerves while you sleep. It cures them.

Vudor Porch Shades cost little. They give air but keep out glare. You can look out through Vudors, but not in through them. They last—they keep "that new look," for they're stained, not painted, nor dipped.
